THE revolt in Portugal spreads to Lisbon, chief city. China's armies in the north make a desperate effort to stop troops from Canton, driving against Shanghai. Southern troops may create western powers by establishing a neutral zone for foreigners in Shanghai.

THE marriage service of the Episcopal Church may drop "endow" as well as "obey". That loss of "endowment" wouldn't be much of a cash loss to American daughters of rich fathers marrying charming British noblemen.

WASHINGTON wonders, if the McNary-Haugen farm bill passes, whether President Coolidge will veto it and, if so, whether it will hurt him in 1928.

The president was against the bill in time, but he is not among those who are too feeble to change their minds. If farmers want it and congress chooses to run the risks alleged to lurk in the bill, the president may sign it. He doesn't think it wise he will veto it.

WALL STREET was gay yesterday—all except bears. They had tears in each eye. Those that sold Reading & Lake Erie short saw the stock going up 11 points more and had to pay 36 premium to carry along their nervousness. Better to buy than sell in this country.

Such is part of the news on which we will muse today. The newspaper is the second hand on history's clock.

THE blood is the life." Wise Moses knew it. Every man's history proves it. Our eating, breathing and exercising make the blood and it makes us. "Good wine makes good blood; good blood makes good thoughts; good thoughts make good deeds."

YOUNG gentlemen concentrated on the prize ring wondered when Tunney seemed unable to fight Tunney. There was no "punch" coming from the brain to the fist. Now you know that Dempsey, suffering from blood poisoning, has undergone six operations in 18 hours. A reflection, doubtless, of the condition that made Tunney useless in the prize ring last year.

ENDLESS millions of red and white corpuscles flow through veins and arteries, the red feeding your body, the white fighting disease, as workers support a nation with food and soldiers to protect it.

Take care of those red and white corpuscles. Give them good food, plenty of sleep, and plenty of OXYGEN above all. For, if the blood is the life of man, oxygen is the life of the blood.

Old days, when wholesale murder was a permanently established institution, the survival of the tribe depended on the leader selected to think for all.

THERE are fine women in America. A year ago Mrs. Myrtle Huddleston of California took up swimming "to exercise." On Saturday she swam the English Channel, her 11-year-old boy calling out to her, "Come on, mamma! Don't give up!" When she finished she found the 30-year-old mother was nervous, partly paralyzed, and had been eaten four times by savage barracuda.

I do bad that such a woman should waste her marvelous vitality on a task that pleases the morbid but does good! The nation could afford to offer to have 21 children instead of swimming 21 miles in icy water.

JACK DEMPSEY IS OUT OF DANGER, WIFE STATES

Los Angeles, Feb. 8—Jack Dempsey, former world's heavyweight boxing champion, who has been in bed suffering from blood poisoning in his left arm, resulting from a a neglected minor cut, was considered entirely out of danger today and the prospect was he would be up within the next two days, according to word given out by Estelle Taylor, his wife.

ST. LOUIS BROWNS OFFER TY COBB $50,000 CONTRACT

St. Louis, Feb. 8—Ty Cobb has been offered $50,000 to sign a 1927 contract with the St. Louis Browns, according to word emanating today from New York, where Phil Ball, owner and Dan Howley, manager, of the Browns, recently conferred with the Georgian. Manager Howley is quoted in the information from New York that Cobb has to give his answer today.

MORE THAN 500 LOCAL RAILMEN GET PAY BOOST

New Wage Increase Effective from Feb. 1 Affects Erie Firemen, Engineers

OTHER ROADS INCLUDED

Approximately 31,000 Employes on 27 Eastern Railroads To Share Raise

More than 500 Marion railroad firemen and engineers will get a boost in their pay checks during the next year if the seven and a half per cent wage increase announced Saturday in New York takes effect on the Erie here.

According to the statement from New York, the Erie is included in the list of larger roads effected by the new Watson-Parker bill which provides for the increase. No word of the boost however, has been received in the local offices.

Hold Conference

The increase was brought about after a conference between representatives of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen and G. Wallace W. Hanger, member of the United States board of mediation, it was announced in New York. Approximately 31,000 firemen and engineers on 27 eastern railroads are said to be affected by the increase.

The agreement is believed to be the first one of such magnitude to be effected by mediation. The settlement is effective from Feb. 1, 1927, and the agreement is operative for one year.

Requests Granted

Certain minor requests of the firemen were granted or modified, Mr. Hanger said. The request for allowance for overtime, meals, lodging, and expenses when train crews were away from home was withdrawn without prejudice.

Other large roads affected are the New York Central, Pennsylvania, Reading; Delaware, Lackawanna and Western; Lehigh Valley, Michigan Central and Baltimore and Ohio. Thirty-two subsidiary lines are also affected.

TRIAL OF BEN RUDNER PROCEEDING SLOWLY

Chesterfieldian Activities of Judge Agler Serve as Humdrum Break

Canton, Feb. 8—If it were not for the Chesterfieldian activities of Judge A. W. Agler, the trial of Ben Rudner, which began here yesterday, would lapse into a humdrum routine of selecting jurors to decide the fate of the man accused of having conceived the plot to kill Canton's vice-fighting editor.

The venire of 56 persons drawn to be quizzed as possible jurors was exhausted early today, causing a delay until Sheriff Ed. Gibson could get another panel summoned. Court was then adjourned until 9 o'clock Wednesday.

Meanwhile Judge Agler beamed on the assemblance. Once when a young mother pleaded ill health as an excuse for dodging jury duty, the judge smiled, left the bench and escorted her from the courtroom with the admonition: "Take care of yourself, my friend."

The first panel of potential jurors was exhausted with the defense using but two of its 16 peremptory challenges. Most of those excused admitted that they were prejudiced against capital punishment. Some said that they had formed an opinion in the case and were summarily dismissed.

Defense counsel has indicated that this trial is to be bitterly contested. In contrast with the trial of Pat McDermott, who was convicted Christmas Eve and sentenced to life imprisonment for his alleged participation in the conspiracy, the proceedings to decide Rudner's fate have become extraordinarily slow.

NAVAL OFFICER SUICIDE AFTER LENGTHY ILLNESS

Washington, Feb. 8—Lieut. Com. Arthur Peters, U. S. N., committed suicide in a cottage in the mountains near Bluemont, Va., Sunday, it was learned here today when relatives brought his body to the capital for burial. Commander Peters had been in ill health for some time, it was said, and had gone to the mountains to recuperate. He shot himself in the head with a service revolver.

Coolidge Not Candidate in 1928—Butler

New York, Feb. 8—Considerable interest and conjecture was aroused in political circles today as a result of the prediction of Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University, that President Coolidge will not be a candidate for renomination in 1928.

DR. N. M. BUTLER

Dr. Butler's prediction was made last night in an address at the Riverside Republican Club, of the ninth assembly district. Dr. Butler was a guest at the White House last week. He disclaimed any direct information from Washington, however, asserting that he voiced only his own opinion.

Dr. Butler said:

"I am taking it for granted that when President Coolidge thinks the right time has come he will make a public statement of his unwillingness to have his name considered in connection with the Republican presidential nomination of 1928."

Dr. Butler, who sought the nomination in 1920 and is being supported by "wet" New York Republicans for the honor next year, cited as among his reasons for thinking President Coolidge will eliminate himself from "possibility that the third-term issue may be raised in 1928."

"The Republican party is going to have a hard enough time in 1928 without inviting certain defeat through injecting the third term issue."

The issues that will have to be met in 1928, Dr. Butler told the Republicans, are: prohibition, the relief of the farmer and foreign policy.

CAPITAL SET BUZZING BY BUTLER PREDICTION

Columbia University Head First Republican To Bring Up Third Term Bugaboo

Washington, Feb. 8—Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler's prediction that President Coolidge will not be a candidate to succeed himself in 1928 became the liveliest political topic in the capital today. More than ordinary significance was attached to his statement, for Dr. Butler has been a frequent house guest of the Coolidges. Only a few weeks ago he spent the week-end there. His relation with Mr. Coolidge has always been intimate and friendly. He stands out today, as a result of his speech in New York, as the first Republican leader of prominence to publicly proclaim Mr. Coolidge's "unavailability" in 1928 because of the third term aspect of his candidacy. Other prominent Republicans have given voice to the same sentiments in private conversations, but it has remained for Dr. Butler to come forth with it openly. Most Republican leaders have been content, for publicity purposes at any rate, to ride along on the Coolidge wagon and await developments.

Only two other Republicans of note have had anything at all to say on the subject for publication purposes. Ralph E. Williams of Oregon, vice chairman of the Republican National Committee, recently stated that "if Mr. Coolidge is a candidate he will have a hard fight on his hands," and Col. George Harvey intimated in an interview abroad that Mr. Coolidge would not care to risk the third term bugaboo. Harvey later hastened to assert his remarks had been misinterpreted.

COOLIDGE IGNORES BUTLER'S SPEECH

Washington, Feb. 8—President Coolidge today declined to comment upon Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler's prediction that he would not be a candidate for another term in the White House.

Numerous questions bearing on Dr. Butler's assertion that "that president has served two terms who has twice taken the oath of office" were propounded to Mr. Coolidge today in the bi-weekly press conference, but he ignored them all.

The president was reported to be somewhat nettled by the Butler speech.

NEW ORANGE KING

Ace Murray Puts Away 65 in Four and One-Half Hours

Cincinnati, Feb. 8—Ace Murray, of the land of sunshine and oranges a-plenty, which might mean California, but which in this case means Miami, Fla., today claims the orange eating championship of the United States and all points south.

Ace managed to put away no less than 65 oranges in four and a half hours here last night, thus out-gorging the record of Howard Stribling, Columbus, O., who recently downed 62 oranges in another contest here.

Pat O'Brien, local orange championship aspirant, gurgled that "Murray could have the championship" just after the 60-mark was passed.

Murray, however, proceeded to eat "just a few more" in order to clinch the championship.

COOLIDGE WITHDRAWS NOMINATION OF TILSON

Washington, Feb. 8—President Coolidge today withdrew the nomination of William J. Tilson as federal judge for the middle district of Georgia.

Tilson, a brother of Representative Tilson of Connecticut, Republican house leader, was rejected by a senate committee. When the senate failed to confirm Tilson's nomination last year, Mr. Coolidge gave him a recess appointment.

FINAL STEPS IN SALE OF PHONE PLANT STARTED

Corps of Six Public Utility Appraisers Arrive in Marion To Check Assets

INSPECT SERVICE LINES

Inventory of Equipment of Marion County Telephone Co. Plant To Follow

Final steps in connection with sale of the Marion County Telephone Co., property to the Ohio Associated Telephone Co. were started today when a corps of six appraisers representing the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio arrived and began making a complete check of the local company's assets.

Application for official approval of the sale has been filed with the commission, but before action can be taken, the appraisers must submit a detailed report showing the property valuation and other figures regarding the local company's business. It is expected that two or three weeks will be required for completion of this work.

More Formality

This appraisal is a formality required in connection with all sales of this kind and it is not anticipated that the report to be filed on the local transaction will create any complications which might prevent prompt approval by the state commission.

The six appraisers who began work this morning started at once with an inspection of service lines and other outside property. This will lead up to the taking of an inventory of equipment at the exchange in the Marion County Telephone Co. building on S. Main-st.

Work Ordered

Work of making the appraisal was ordered immediately after the city of Marion, through its counsel, City Solicitor George T. Geran and former Solicitor Grant E. Mouser Jr., has signed an agreement withdrawing the application that had been filed asking for a public hearing on the local telephone sale. This agreement, also signed by telephone company attorneys, provided that the sale price shall in no way be used as the basis of rate computations.

COLUMBUS ARMED BANDIT TERROR STILL REIGNS

Seven Outlying Establishments Visited Late Yesterday and Today

Columbus, Feb. 8—Armed bandits, who have spread terror among small merchants and filling station operators in the residential districts of Columbus for 36 hours, continued their raids early today, as police hunted the city without success.

The bandits robbed Dean Stanloff, operator of an all night cafe, of $35, early today, he told police, and Harold Samuin, oil station attendant, reported that he contributed $30 late yesterday afternoon, when the armed highwaymen visited his establishment.

The bandits earlier yesterday, perpetrated four bold daylight holdups, visiting three small stores and another filling station.

Police believe all the holdups were committed by a gang numbering six or more, and including both white men and negroes, although they admitted several "mobs" of marauders may be working in the city.

MOVIE PLAN "FLOP"

Drive for Federal Censorship of Films Proves Shortlived

Washington, Feb. 8—The movie censorship drive inaugurated by the International Reform Association has proved short-lived, it was learned today.

After reform leaders conferred with Representative Reed, Republican, of New York, chairman of the house committee which has the regulatory measures before it, it was announced that action would not be requested on the measures in the sixty-ninth congress.

A campaign of "education" preparatory to renewing the legislative fight next winter will be started, Representative Upshaw, Democrat, of Georgia, said.

GOVERNOR KIDNAPED

Political Leader and His Followers Break Through Armed Guard

Mexico City, Feb. 8—An armed band has abducted Jose De La Pena, impeached governor of Nayarit, despite the protection of federal troops afforded him, according to reports received here.

Dispatches state that a Nayarit political leader and many followers surrounded the home of the ex-governor and broke through the federal guard and carried the ex-governor and a group of his friends away.

HUGH GIBSON APPOINTED AMBASSADOR TO BELGIUM

Washington, Feb. 8—Hugh Gibson, American minister to Switzerland, has been appointed ambassador to Belgium, it was announced today by President Coolidge. Gibson succeeds Brand Whitlock, who has been ambassador to Belgium since 1914. Gibson will remain at Berne until his successor is appointed.

Carol Will Not Return to Roumania if He Cannot Divorce Princess Helen

PARIS, Feb. 8—Prince Carol of Roumania has announced his intention of never returning to Roumania or re-establishing his rights to the throne, if this is made conducting upon his return to his wife, Princess Helen, it was learned authoritatively today.

The prince has been in conference here for several days with emissaries of Queen Marie who have suggested to Prince Carol that he return to Bucharest in a private capacity, without conditions, and discuss with King Ferdinand, in his dying days, the future of the Roumanian dynasty.

Rejects Overtures

Thus far Prince Carol has resisted these overtures, declaring that he still loves Madame Lupescu and will remain loyal to her, and moreover he has announced his dislike of the intrigues of Bucharest.

Madame Lupescu, however, has declared her willingness to step into oblivion if her retirement is necessary to the return of Prince Carol.

"I want to do the right thing for my country, and I will sacrifice myself and my love," Madame Lupescu told her friends here recently.

Prince Carol has told the emissaries of Queen Marie that he resents the intervention of his parents in his private life and feels that the king and the queen abetted in the publication of his relations with Madame Lupescu, but now that these relations are known to the whole world he believes it his duty to stand by Madame Lupescu.

PRINCE CAROL

The emissaries of the queen have told Prince Carol that King Ferdinand is dying slowly, although he is not aware of this. The physicians have been unable to perform a complete operation upon him, and radium treatments are merely prolonging his life and are not effecting a cure.

Prince Carol has let it be known that he has no desire to see or attempt a reconciliation with Princess Helen. He has said that if he ever discusses the restoration of his rights to the throne, he will insist upon a divorce from Princess Helen.

"I don't love Helen and she doesn't love me," Prince Carol told the queen's emissaries.

Wants Divorce

"I won't be king unless I get a divorce. I won't live with Helen. I won't go through that mockery. If I am going to be king some day I will fulfill my duties to the best of my abilities, but I must be allowed to live my own private life."

Princess Helen, however, is decidedly popular in Roumania and it is believed that any attempt to discard her would be rather dangerous political business.

When Prince Carol left Roumania he understood that Princess Helen also would leave the country and he feels that it is unfair that she returned and has continued to increase her popularity.

GREEN CAMP ROBBERY SOLVED BY CONFESSION

Richard Kesselring, 19, Clover St, Implicated in Burglary by Companion's Statements

With the grand jury in its second day of investigating juvenile crime in Marion, another arrest was made last night and a robbery in Green Camp last March was cleared up.

Richard Kesselring, 19, living on Clover-st, was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Vane Ireland, and according to Prosecutor Frank Wiedemann and Sheriff James Deal, confessed to taking part in the robbery of the Bricker Hardware store at Green Camp in March, 1926. A number of tires and some cartridges were taken from the store in the robbery.

Kesselring, according to Prosecutor Wiedemann, was implicated in the robbery through others of the 14 boys now under sentence to various state institutions, for taking part in robberies in Marion in the last few months.

The grand jury session was due to end sometime this afternoon. Shortly before noon the word was given out that the jurors had practically completed their work and would be ready to report shortly after lunch.

It is understood that Kesselring's case went before the grand jury this morning, along with the other three which were presented by Prosecutor Wiedemann yesterday.

MOVE MADE TO SHORTEN DAUGHERTY TRIAL TIME

Argument on Evidence Precedes Prosecution's Address to Jury

New York, Feb. 8—United State Attorney Emory R. Buckner's opening address to the jury in the second trial of Harry M. Daugherty, former attorney general, and Thomas W. Miller, former alien property custodian, was preceded today by a conference of opposing counsel concerning stipulations in regard to the uncontrovered evidence. This move is being made in an effort to make the trial shorter than the first one, which ended in a jury disagreement.

The two defendants are charged with conspiracy against the government in connection with the return of $7,000,000 in war seized property to German interests, and the acceptance of an alleged bribe of $441,000 the government contends was handed over in cash and liberty bonds to induce the defendants to return the assets of the American Metals Co., a German corporation, to the Societe Suisse Pour Valeur De Meteaux. This latter company, according to the government, was in reality the same as the American Metal Co., with the same officers and interests—a mere "blind."

TO CALL GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS TO STAND

Big Scene of Ford Tax Suit Is Scheduled for Wednesday

Washington, Feb. 8—By mutual consent of opposing counsel the big scene in the government's celebrated tax case in which it seeks to recover $30,000,000, plus additional taxes from former minority stockholders of the Ford Motor Co., today was postponed until Wednesday.

This scene will mark the appearance of David H. Blair, commissioner of internal revenue, and his deputy, C. H. Mann, for examination. These two government officials were subpoenaed by the board of tax appeals at the request of John W. Davis and Joseph B. Dorsey, chief counsel for the taxpayers, after they declined to voluntarily appear and give evidence.

It was indicated today that counsel for the Fords will question the witnesses at length in an effort to show that the government's case is based largely on hearsay evidence.

KING'S CONDITION CALLED HOPELESS

Budapest, Feb. 8—The condition of King Ferdinand is hopeless and supporters of Prince Carol are preparing an extensive movement to restore him to his rights to the throne, according to reports from Bucharest.

ST. MARY'S SCHOOL TO HAVE ADDITIONAL ROOM

New Structure Will Be Put Up This Year To Provide Necessary Facilities

A two-story brick addition to the St. Mary's Parochial School building on N. Prospect-st is to be constructed this year to provide additional rooms and facilities for high school classes.

Tentative plans for the addition are under consideration and details are expected to be decided upon in the near future so that contracts can be let and the construction work completed before the beginning of the next school year in September.

The addition will consist of two rooms measuring about 33 by 40 feet each, with a basement of the same dimensions. One room will be used for the high school science course and other for the commercial and business course, according to present plans of the school officials.

The present St. Mary's building was constructed about 20 years ago and gradual growth of the school since that time necessitates additional room. The enrollment of the school is now about 170.

$500 PER WEEK

Alimony Rate Awarded Mrs. "Bud" Fisher By Judge

New York, Feb. 8—Harry C. "Bud" Fisher, noted comic artist, must pay Mrs. Fisher, the former Countess De Beaumont, $500 a week alimony, Supreme Court Justice Tierney ruled today.

She had been granted a separation dated Feb. 1. The Fishers were married aboard the U. S. Liner Leviathan. They went to England, quarreled almost immediately, Mrs. Fisher testified at a previous hearing, and stopped at different hotels.

She charged he beat her and drank too much. He denied the charges.

VIRGINIA REPRESENTATIVE WOULD REVIVE LEAGUE

Washington, Feb. 8—The League of Nations issue will be revived in a new form in the next congress, Representative Moore, Democrat, of Va., told the house foreign affairs committee today.

"I propose to introduce a resolution for a definite declaration of policy", said Moore. "The old issue of membership is dead, but we should state just to what extent we will cooperate with the league."

The committee approved President Coolidge's request for participation in the world economic conference to be held by the League of Nations next May, and voted a $15,000 appropriation to meet expenses of American delegates.

IDENTIFIES HOLDUP MAN

Cincinnati, Feb. 8—Gilbert Simmonds, 24, recently released here on bond in connection with a robbery indictment, faced another charge of robbery today in connection with the theft of a $1,300 payroll of the Globe Fielding Rod Co., here last Friday. The cashier, who saw the bandits escape, has identified Simmonds as one of the armed robbers.

BANDITS KILL GUARD

Columbus, Feb. 8—Three men were captured yesterday by police after they attacked and killed a guard at the Ohio Penitentiary, and escaped in an automobile. The guard, Thomas Hall, was found dead in the prison yard with his head battered in. Two of the men were captured in the city.

COLD WAVE IS HEADED TOWARD MARION, REPORT

Snow To Accompany Drop in Temperature in This Section, Prediction

Return of cold winds was predicted today by the weather man in the gloomy words:

"Colder tonight, much colder Wednesday, with cold wave tonight in northwest portion of Ohio."

Snow will accompany the general drop in the temperature for this section of the state, the forecast indicated. Snow flurries are probable tonight and Wednesday, with the drop in temperature being gradual tonight.

The cold wave will drive away the near spring weather of the last two weeks, during which the mercury seldom has fallen below the freezing point. The temperature yesterday was 50 degrees above at the highest point, and 32 degrees above at the lowest point. It was slightly colder a year ago, with a high of 38 degrees and a low of 30 degrees above zero.

ORGANIZATION LEADERS CONFER IN WASHINGTON

Would Unite Veterans of All Wars Behind Single Preparedness Policy

Washington, Feb. 8—The first attempt in history to unite the living veterans of all American wars behind a single policy of national preparedness will be made here Feb. 18 at a conference of the commanders of all veterans' organizations, it was announced today.

The conference, which will be held in the capitol, will be attended by James Tanner, of Pennsylvania, commander-in-chief of the G. A. R., Rice W. Means, of Colorado, commander-in-chief of the United Spanish War Veterans; Theodore Stitt, of New York, commander-in-chief of the Veterans of Foreign Wars; Howard P. Savage, of Illinois, national commander of the American Legion, and J. V. Clinnin of Ohio, national commander of the Disabled American Veterans. Three wars—the civil, Spanish-American and World—will be represented.

"The conference will express itself as to our national defense, define the term Americanism and discuss and consider such other matters as are of special interest to the great body of veterans of the United States," said Senator Means.

CUT AND BRUISED IN FALL FROM MOTORCYCLE

Charles Thatcher Injured in Upset at Center-Prospect-St Intersection

Charles Thatcher, 25, of 318 N. Greenwood-st, suffered a number of cuts and bruises when the motorcycle he was riding skidded and overturned at Center and Prospect-sts about 9 o'clock last night, throwing the rider violently to the paving. Thatcher's injuries were not serious and he was able to be at his place of employment at the Marion Steam Shovel plant today. The motorcycle was only slightly damaged.

The accident was caused, according to reports, by wheels of the motorcycle catching in the street railway track.

STEEL Unit Increases

Columbus, Feb. 8—Thirty horse power gasoline purchased for the city pumping plant at Hamilton, Ohio, will be replaced by a 1,000 horse power steam unit, it was announced today by the city service director. The new unit will cost $[illegible].

Ohio Gets Control

Columbus, Feb. 8—Control of a half million dollar fund for the construction of a bridge across the Ohio river at Portsmouth, Ohio, was assumed by the state highway department today when Governor Donahey signed a bill passed by the legislature. The bridge will connect Portsmouth with [illegible].

NICKEL PLATE MERGER PLANS GOING TO I. C. C.

Will Be Filed Within 30 Days; Minority Opposition Swept Away

FIVE ROADS INVOLVED

Proposal Brings Forth Great Transportation System; Two Big Terminals in West

Cleveland, Feb. 8—With indications that the opposition of minority stockholders of the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway had been cleared away, it was learned here today that revised plans for the Nickel Plate merger, involving the Nickel Plate, C. & O., Hocking Valley, Erie and Pere Marquette, would be filed with the interstate commerce commission within the next 30 days.

This follows acquisition of stock control of the Wheeling and Lake Erie by the Nickel Plate, New York Central and B. & O. Railroads jointly, as announced yesterday.

The backbone of the new merger, according to an official announcement by W. J. Hanrahan, president of the C. & O., will be that road and not the Nickel Plate, as was the case previously. Hanrahan announced that the C. & O. had already acquired substantial holdings in the shares of the Pere Marquette and Erie, and holds options from the Nickel Plate and O. P. and M. J. Van Sweringen for additional stock in both roads, which will give to the C. & O. "substantial stock control" of these two lines.

Iron Out Details

While official announcement was confined to the above features and the further statement that 800,312,400 of new common stock of the C. & O. would be issued to take up these options, it was learned that executives of the roads controlled by the Van Sweringen interests were ironing out details preparatory to the submission of new merger plans to the interstate commerce commission.

The proposed grouping of railroads, including Chesapeake & Ohio, Erie, Pere Marquette and Hocking Valley, has already been approved by the interstate commerce commission from the transportation standpoint. The plan submitted more than a year ago was disapproved because it was held unfair in some of its financial aspects to C. & O. stockholders.

Fourth Great System

Completion of the merger will create a fourth great railroad system, competing with the New York Central, Pennsylvania and Baltimore and Ohio.

It will have terminals in St. Louis and Chicago at its western extremities, tapping the rich agricultural sections of a dozen states, and reaching eastward to the Atlantic Ocean through the coal fields of West Virginia.

It will furnish easy access to lake ports at Toledo and Cleveland as well as Chicago.

WHEELING, LAKE ERIE STOCKS CONTINUE RISE

New York, Feb. 8—Wheeling and Lake Erie Railroad stocks continued their meteoric rise at the opening of the New York Stock Exchange today, the common advancing 20 points to 115 and the preferred 11½ points to 91 within 30 minutes trading. This fresh jump was in response to the announcement that the New York Central, The Baltimore & Ohio and the Nickel Plate had bought practically all the stock and removed it from the market.

The "shorts" found themselves in a worse predicament than ever. Loaners of the stock demanded seven per cent, which was the equivalent of paying $700 a day to borrow 100 shares. The trapped sorts are threatening to fight the regulation of the New York Stock Exchange which calls for immediate delivery of the common stock sold short.

Stock Out of Control

Following the new sensational rise it was generally admitted in Wall Street that the stock is out of control and demands are being made that it be withdrawn from trading. The shorts or bears who sold the stock without having any to deliver have lost millions of dollars.

Western Maryland Railroad Common, which has been moving up with Wheeling, but at a slower pace, opened at 39¾, a loss of 1½ points from the previous close but there was an immediate buying spurt and it was whisked up to 42¼.

Other rails, notably Chicago, Great Western and Chicago and Alton were active and strong.

COUNSEL CONFERS WITH I. C. C.

Washington, Feb. 8—A. P. Moody, general counsel for the Wheeling & Lake Erie Railroad, conferred with members of the finance committee of the interstate commerce commission today relative to securing permission to increase the road's outstanding issue of common stock.

PROMOTER SOUGHT

Employment Office Issue Orders to Check Men

Lincoln, Ill., Feb. 8—Posses have been out all night in an effort to capture [illegible] promoter who is alleged to have obtained $[illegible] from Lincoln citizens for a proposed [illegible] factory. The promoter, who gave his name as [illegible], is said to have left Lincoln in a hurry after the factory project failed to materialize.

PROPOSALS TO BETTER HOMES ARE APPROVED

Governor Sends Message to Legislature Embodies Committee's Report

Columbus, Feb. 8—Approval by Gov. Vic Donahey of plans proposed for improving conditions at the Soldiers' & Sailors' Home, Sandusky, and at the Soldiers' & Sailors' Orphans' Home, Xenia, is registered in the governor's fourth message to the present Ohio Legislature. The message was under consideration today by the solons.

The governor's message embodied a report submitted to him by members of a committee which he selected some months ago to make a survey and to recommend plans for taking care of the needs of these institutions. The governor asked the legislators to give "favorable consideration" to the report.

The committee comprised: State Supreme Judge E. S. Matthias, chairman, representing Spanish-American war veterans; Lieut. Col. M. D. Campbell, Cincinnati, representing the American Legion; Capt. Herbert R. Mooney, Woodsfield, state commander, American Legion; Ralph H. Carroll, Cleveland, state commander, Spanish-American war veterans; Lieut. Col. Rell G. Allen, Washington C. H., representing the board of trustees, Ohio Soldiers' & Sailors' Orphans' Home, and Adjutant General Frank D. Henderson, representing the governor.

Recommending appropriations aggregating $849,905 for the Xenia home, the committee stated that the home had been subjected to "long-continued neglect" and that present facilities are inadequate.

$288,400 Sought

The committee's recommendations included a request for an appropriation of $288,400 for the fiscal period from July 1, next, to Dec. 31, 1928, for salaries, wages, medical and educational supplies, building and general plant materials, equipment, traveling expense, and additions and betterments.

Recommendation that $73,000 be spent for remodeling cottages, an equal amount be spent for building two boys' and two girls' cottages, and that $9,800 be expended for repairing school buildings at the Xenia home were, also, made by the committee.

Screening of 16 cottages at the Sandusky home, at a cost of $4,000; erection of a new tinshop, a carpenter shop and hose house, costing $15,000, a new floor in the dining hall, at an expense of $2,000, and the purchase of 800 individual lockers for the soldiers were recommended by the committee.

PUT CREAM IN NOSE AND STOP CATARRH

Tells How To Open Clogged Nostrils and End Head-Colds.

You feel fine in a few moments. Your cold in head or catarrh will be gone. Your clogged nostrils will open. The air passages of your head will clear and you can breathe freely. No more dullness, headache; no hawking, snuffling, mucous discharge or dryness; no struggling for breath at night.

Tell your druggist you want a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic cream in your nostrils, let it penetrate through every air passage of the head; soothe every air passage of the head; soothe and heal the swollen, inflamed mucous membrane, and relief comes instantly.

It is just what every cold and catarrh sufferer needs. Don't stay stuffed-up and miserable.—Adv.

Pity Poor Congressman, He's Worked to Frazzle

And, He Has To Hoe His Own Row; And Hoe Neatly—at That

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8—A member of congress' job, conscientiously attended to, is about as strenuous a job as there is.

A big business man passes on a lot of his work to subordinates. About all he has to be is a good judge of helpers. Having built up a competent staff of chief assistants, he can sit back and take the credit for what they do.

A professional man's duties are more personal. A doctor, for instance, has to do a large share of his own doctoring. Still, even physicians, when they get to the top of the heap, unload the details of their cases onto young deputy medicos.

The very president of the United States trusts to department heads.

A congressman has to hoe his own row. He may be lazy about it, but if he hoes neatly and thoroughly, it makes him bump.

A CONGRESSMAN has a secretary, to be sure, and his secretary often has several assistants, but after all, they only jump as the congressman pulls the strings.

To begin with, he gets a raft of mail. No doubt he chucks a great deal of it over to his clerical help to answer, but he has to know what's in it if he's to stay in congress long. Let him once lose touch with his constituency and he's a goner. Perhaps his district's politically so one-sided that he can't be beaten in an election, but somebody else in his own party always is on hand, given the least show, to fight him in the primaries.

It's the fashion to speak of congressmen as pretty poor sticks, but the fact is that some very wise individuals come to Washington and they all know their p's and q's in politics or they don't last—except as accidents, for a term or two.

FURTHERMORE, a real congressman has a deal of studying to do. Not only, if he has a genuine sense of duty, must he kept posted on pending legislation in general, but he must have an eye out for good and bad bills as related to the particular section he represents.

A proposition that's meat for New England frequently is poison for the corn belt, or vice versa, or somewhere else.

The worse the kick a measure has in it, the surer it is to be fixed up so it looks as mild as Mary's little lamb. A good congressman has to see what's underneath through the slickest disguise.

A CONGRESSMAN has his legislative duties to attend to. They occupy him from noon until 4 or 5 o'clock usually six days a week.

His correspondence eats up most of his forenoons.

He has committee meetings to attend every day or two.

He has bills to read and analyze and frame up o' nights.

And nobody is so subject to interruptions. Everybody wants things from a congressman. He has telephone calls and visitors dropping in to see him everlastingly.

Every little while some highly important personage or a whole delegation turns up in his office, with a tremendous issue he's urged to take care of, and the conference lasts several entire days. In the meantime the poor congressman's work piles up. These are the times that try congressional souls.

A congressman's job looks easy to a casual caller in his office, but just camp there for awhile and watch him perform, continuously, unless he's one of the dummies, it's no snap.

DENVER MUSEUM DIGGERS FIND FOSSIL OF BUFFALO

Denver, Feb. 8—Fossil remains of a species of buffalo larger and stronger than those that engaged the attention of Indian and white hunters on the plains fifty years ago have been unearthed by an expedition of the Denver city park museum, which recently returned from Folsom, New Mexico with many valuable specimens.

The ancient bones were discovered in a dry creek bed, ten miles from Folsom, in the northeastern part of New Mexico near the Colorado line. The discoveries of the Denver expedition are the latest of a long list of valuable scientific finds made in New Mexico, where remains of ancient man and prehistoric animal life seem to abound.

The bones brought back by the expedition are now being mounted by Philip Reinheimer, noted fossil expert, who says the bones represent a species of bison previously not known to scientists.

Great Triple PIANO SALE

After Holiday Clearance Alteration Sacrifice Sale Clearance of Discontinued Lines

Sale Starts Tomorrow at 8:30 A. M.

THIS house has never indulged in so-called bargain selling. Only standard lines of Pianos are sold here and all customers have always been treated alike. But there has now been accumulated a large stock of choice instruments from favorable exchanges made during the Holiday season. It is our policy to dispose of these pianos at once, pricing them low to insure quick clearance.

For nearly thirty years, this store has been Marion's headquarters for high grade Pianos. Alterations are in progress that we may better serve our constantly growing trade. Rooms have been rearranged, and new fittings and fixtures installed. Most of our brand new stock is now in one large room, making selection and comparison easy. Final alterations and decorating compel us to dispose of a considerable portion of this new stock or take the risk of having it damaged. Rather will we induce you by price savings to buy NOW.

We have been proud of the many desirable makes of Pianos carried here. However, really too many good agencies were accepted. We must concentrate on fewer and close out several others. These choice stocks, comprising many fine pianos in Grand, Upright, and Player models, will be distributed to fortunate buyers at truly bargain prices.

To the Piano Buying Public, this sale is of triple importance. Any one of the three groups of Pianos contains unmatched values. The Sale starts tomorrow. Come in—make your selection early.

MPROVEMENT F N. STATE-ST RACK PLANNED

. D. & M. Expects To Start Repairing Car Line When Weather Permits

Repair of the N. State-st car lines, remedy conditions against which nplaints were recently filed with City uncil, is planned for this year, acding to information obtained by y Solicitor George T. Geran in a nference last week with W. P. loney, attorney for the C., D. & M. ctric Co. Mr. Moloney is directing local affairs of the company during absence of its general manager, A. Van Deinse, who is in Florida for cation of several months.

Repair work on the Davids-st line ll also be completed this year, it s indicated by Mr. Moloney, who exts to appear before council at its meeting and outline the company's provement program in detail.

Get Complaints

Complaints regarding condition of th the N. State and Davids-st lines were received by council recently and Solicitor Geran was instructed to take the matter up with C., D. & M. officials. Patrons of the N. State-st line are especially insistent in their requests for improved service. They have informed council that the car tracks between Center and Fairground-sts have become so rough that it is impossible to ride on the cars in comfort. This has resulted from the foundation under rails and ties crumbling and washing away, causing the track to sag at numerous points, it is claimed.

Officials of the C., D. & M. admit that the N. State-st line is in urgent need of overhauling and expect to have repair work started as soon as weather conditions permit, according to information received by City Solicitor Geran.

Weather of the last few months, consisting of intermittent periods of freezing and thawing, has been especially damaging to the local street railway lines, C., D. & M. officials report. In this respect, the season has been one of the most costly in the company's history, it is claimed.

Discuss Petitions

Petitions recently filed by about 175 residents of the southwest section of Marion, complaining about street railway service in that locality, were also discussed by Geran and Moloney. Service in their neighborhood is crippled, the petitioners asserted, as a result of city cars being sidetracked and delayed in order to give interurban cars the right-of-way.

Mr. Moloney states that the company aims to maintain a 10-minute schedule for city cars in southwest Marion although under the terms of the franchise only 20-minute service is required. As a consequence, C., D. & M. officials are of the opinion that residents of that section of the city should be well satisfied with the service.

E. C. Macken, superintendent of the car lines, recently stated that interurban cars are never intentionally permitted to disrupt the schedule of city cars. He says that most of the delays about which citizens complain are due to cars being held up at railway crossings. It is expected that this subject will be thoroughly discussed when Mr. Moloney appears before Council.

SCHOOL BOARD FIXES SPRING VACATION DATES

Period Will Run from March 26 to April 4; To Close June 3

Dates of the spring vacation of the Marion schools and the date for the closing of school in June were set by the Board of Education at the regular meeting last night.

School will close for the summer on June 3. The spring vacation will start on March 26 and end on April 4. Routine business and a short discussion of legislation now pending before the state legislature occupied the remainder of the brief session.

Supt. J. H. Mason called the attention of Board members to the bills now in the legislature, one to pension school custodians, another to extend the bonded debt limit from four per cent of the tax duplicate to six per cent, and the third to exempt school boards from taxation on special assessment improvements in municipalities, such as paving in front of a school building. The board took no action on any of the pending legislation.

The custodian pension fund would be created in the same way as the teachers' retirement fund, deducting two per cent of the salary and putting it into the fund. The money paid into the fund would be returned to anyone leaving the service.

The increase from four per cent to six per cent of the tax duplicate limit on bonded debt would mean nothing to Marion, board members said, as the present four per cent limit gives the schools a $2,000,000 limit on bonded debt far beyond what would ever be required.

Any expression on the third bill, that to exempt schools from special assessment taxation was left up to individual members of the board. Reports of the financial condition and the midyear examinations were given by Superintendent Mason.

Texas girl, at 13, Finishes Her First Year in College

Makes One of the Best Scholastic Records of Any Student, Too

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Feb. 8—Completing her first term in Carroll College, San Antonio, before she has reached her thirteenth birthday is not the only honor for Augusta Stockton of London, Tex. She has, in addition, made one of the best scholastic records of any student in the college.

Despite the fact that Augusta is so far advanced in her studies, she is not a "child prodigy" in the generally accepted sense of the word. She is a normal, likable, friendly sort of girl. She doesn't regard the remarkable record that she has made in college as "anything to write home about."

Knew Alphabet Early

According to her father, D. H. Stockton, Augusta mastered the letters of the alphabet at the same time that she learned to talk and could read perfectly when she was only three. She started to school when she was five and skipped the first grade entirely, beginning in the second instead.

During her second year in high school, little Augusta had the misfortune to suffer a broken leg early in the school term; regardless of the handicap she managed to make two grades during that particular year. Even the weary, painful weeks that she passed in the hospital were not lost, for she continued her studies in bed and took unusual interest in psychology, which had the attending physicians explain to her.

Augusta says that science and English are her favorite studies. But she frankly admits that her liking for a particular course depends largely upon the instructor.

What She Wants to Be

Several years ago, Augusta made up her mind to become a medical missionary, a calling which she feels opens the greatest possible field of service to others. To this end she is directing her efforts.

She is planning to complete her "premed" work at Carroll College and then enter Baylor Medical College at Dallas, Texas. The completion of a course in medicine usually takes a number of years, but Augusta believes that she can receive her degree of medicine in the shortest possible period and then take up her work in foreign fields.

Augusta likes to attend parties. She says she never missed one while in high school or during her first term in college. She is a believer in working hard and then playing hard.

She staunchly declares that she has "never had to study very hard."

FIRST MEASURE IS PASSED BY LEGISLATURE

Bill Authorizes Common Pleas to Act for Probate Judges in Case of Death

Columbus, Feb. 8—The first bill to pass both the senate and house since the Ohio Legislature convened more than five weeks ago was on its way to Gov. Vic Donahey for his approval, or rejection.

This bill, introduced by Rep. L. J. Abele, Cuyahoga County, authorizes common pleas judges to act as probate judge in event of death of a probate judge.

A bill, by Rep. John T. Brown, Champaign County, author of the state gasoline tax act, seeks to amend this law by eliminating the provision exempting the state, counties and municipalities from paying the tax on gasoline used by them. The bill, also, is designed to prevent dealers who are financially irresponsible from evading payment of this tax.

To Survey Crossings

By action of the house, the resolution by Rep. R. W. Emmons, Columbiana County, proposing a state constitutional amendment authorizing issuance by the state of $100,000,000 in bonds for the purpose of eliminating railroad grade crossings, today is under consideration by State Highway Director George Schlessinger, who will conduct a survey to determine what crossings throughout the state are in greatest need of elimination. There are more than 11,700 such crossings in Ohio, it was stated.

Stating that only the more dangerous crossings, at the most, can be expected to be eliminated, Emmons indicated that he expected to offer an amendment to his resolution, after he receives from Schlessinger a report covering the size of the proposed state bond issue. The amount of the reduction would not be determined until after the highway director's report was studied, it was said.

POLL ASSURES APPROVAL OF FARM MEASURE

50 Senators Indicate Favor Toward $250,000,000 McNary-Haugen Bill

Washington, Feb. 8—The $250,000,000 McNary-Haugen Bill will be passed by the senate this week and delivered into the hands of a friendly house for final enactment into law before the adjournment of congress, it was revealed today by an International News Service poll.

The greatest obstacle to this program, but one which the farm relief bill apparently will hurdle without trouble, will be the Curtis-Crisp measure, which the administration hopes to substitute for the bill approved by national farm organizations. Leaders of the farm bloc predicted rejection of the substitute and the International News Service poll indicated their prophecy was correct. It has been intimated, however, that President Coolidge will veto the bill when it reaches him.

The poll showed 50 senators favoring the McNary-Haugen bill, including 26 Republicans, 23 Democrats and one Farmer-Laborite. This number would insure passage of the bill under any circumstances. The opposition included 32 certain votes while eight senators were classed as "doubtful" and five were absent.

To insure winning these 50 votes and some of the senators, now classed as "doubtful", the bill must be amended. One of the chief provisions, to be added, with the consent of farm bloc leaders, will be the inclusion of tobacco as one of the crops benefiting under the $250,000,000 revolving fund. If this is done, every indication pointed to passage of the bill by the senate.

The principal difference between the two bills, it was pointed out in debate, is that the McNary-Haugen measure includes an equalization fee, collectable from the farmers as their crops are harvested,—a feature of which is not in the Curtis-Crisp bill. Both measures would provide a $250,000,000 revolving fund, the farm bloc bill advancing loans to cooperative associations whenever the latter adopted the equalization fee while the Curtis Crisp measure would make the advances as loans on the potential crops.

Leaders of the farm bloc hope to reach a final vote in the senate by Thursday at the latest. If a filibuster develops against the bill, they will invoke cloture, a petition already having been signed by 55 senators, a sufficient number to insure "gag rule".

FARM FIRE

Blaze Slightly Damages Building on Prospect-pk

Firemen from Department No. 1 were called yesterday afternoon to the E. G. Van Alta home, a short distance south of the city on the Prospect-pk, where a small structure had caught fire from the operation of an electric lighting plant.

The flames started when rags wrapped about the exhaust pipe of a gasoline engine became ignited, setting fire to the frame of a window over the pipe.

The blaze was extinguished before it had made much progress, the building being only slightly damaged.

LOVE TRAGEDY

Brooklyn Tailor Wounds Young Woman; Kills Self

New York, Feb. 8—Because she refused to elope with him, Charles Perone, a Brooklyn tailor, shot and wounded Miss Mary Maetas, 21, and then killed himself in his shop early today.

Miss Maetas, an attractive blonde corset model, was shot twice. She told police Perone dragged her into his shop and threatened to kill her unless she married him immediately. When she started to run, she said, the tailor shot her and then himself.

GIVING "RIDES" IS NOT CARRIER LAW VIOLATION

Dayton Judge Rules That Suburban Motorists Are Not Breaking Regulation

Dayton, Feb. 8—Automobile owners who carry passengers to and from their suburban homes to their places of employment for compensation, do not violate the "common carrier" provisions of the state utilities commission laws, it was ruled here today by Judge Routzohn.

Ten persons arrested by agents of the state utilities commission were dismissed when Judge Routzohn ruled the autoists engaged in the practise as a matter of accommodation, that they discriminated as to the passengers they accepted, and that the matter of compensation did not enter into the matter. The commission charged the autoists acted as common carriers without permit.

HOLD LAST RITES FOR MRS. SUSAN A. FOGLESON

Services Conducted at Home on Girard-Av; Burial in Marion Cemetery

Funeral services for Mrs. Susan Adaline Fogleson, 76, who died early Sunday morning at her home, 570 Girard-av, were held there at 2 o'clock this afternoon in charge of Dr. U. S. Davis, pastor of Trinity Baptist Church. She was buried in the plot in Marion Cemetery in which both her mother and grandmother, also lifelong residents of Marion, were buried.

Out-of-town relatives in attendance were Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Gimm of Canton, Ill., and Charles Bartram of Columbus. Neuritis and infirmities of age were assigned as the cause of death.

UNKIND STRANGERS

Columbus Man Robbed of Car and Purse at Dayton

Dayton, Feb. 8—The next time C. M. McGuire, Columbus, wants directions in a strange city, he probably will not ask a stranger. After visiting friends here last night, McGuire asked two strangers to direct him to another section of the town. They got into his automobile and at the point of a gun forced him to drive to Centerville, about 10 miles south of here.

The men tied McGuire to a fence, and left with his automobile and $30. They gave him $2. A passing motorist later discovered him and brought him to Dayton.

UNITED STATES ARMY SEEKS RECRUITS HERE

Men Enlisting in Marion Will Be Assigned to China and Hawaii

Recruits for the United States Army, for service in China and Hawaii are being sought in Marion. Coincident with the recent activities in China, where United States ships and men have been concentrated recently, an army recruiting officer has opened a recruiting station in the Post-Office here today.

Men enlisting now have their choice of service in the infantry, field artillery, air corps, signal corps and medical department. Men enlisting in Marion will be sent to Columbus and from there to New York, where they will embark on army transports for China and Hawaii, via Porto Rico and Panama.

The recruiting office at the Post-Office will be open today and tomorrow. Corp. Clarence Tyree is in charge of the recruiting office and will give full information to applicants. Tyree said today that men are also wanted for service in the United States and Panama.

FORMER MARION WOMAN STRICKEN IN CLEVELAND

Mrs. Lucile Kaelber, 25, Victim of Peritonitis; Funeral To Be Thursday

Mrs. Lucile Kaelber, 25, of Cleveland, who was formerly associated with the Paschall Electric Co. here, died at 8:15 o'clock yesterday morning at the Woman's Hospital, Cleveland. Death was due to peritonitis. She had been ill two weeks.

Mrs. Kaelber, who was formerly Miss Lucile Jones, was born in Radnor, Aug. 17, 1901, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Jones, who now reside in Prospect. Mrs. Kaelber made her home here seven years ago for three years with her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Jones, 133 Klerx-st. It was during this time that she was connected with the Paschall Electric Co. She was a member of the Presbyterian Church of Radnor.

Surviving with the husband, Wesley J. Kaelber and parents, are one daughter, Jean Clair and two sons, Wessley J. and Donald Earl Kaelber of Cleveland, and one brother, Emmett Jones, 133 Klerx-st.

Funeral services will be held at the parents' home in Prospect at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon. Burial will be made in Radnor Cemetery.

House cleaning, in a good many instances, is avoided by moving.

Woman So Nervous Can't Digest Food

"I was bothered with gas so bad that I thought I would choke. Food wouldn't digest but stayed in big lumps. I was so nervous. Nothing helped till I heard of Adlerika. It has done wonders for me."—Mrs. T. A. Derosia.

Because Adlerika acts upon BOTH upper and lower bowel, it gives the system a REAL cleansing, and clears out old poisons which usually cause sour, gassy stomach, nervousness, sleeplessness, headache. Jut ONE spoonful stops GAS, and relieves that full, bloated feeling so that you can eat better and sleep better. Even if bowels move daily, Adlerika brings out much additional poison which you never guessed was in your system and which may have long caused trouble. No matter what you have tried for stomach and bowels, Adlerika will surprise you. At leading druggists. Bradley's Drug Store and other druggists.—Adv.

Fire Insurance

is something you take for granted—a protection every property owner should have.

But don't take too much for granted. Don't think that you can take out Fire cept when premiums are due. You must ask yourself every year if your protection is still adequate, if changing property values, improvements and additions in your property, new equipment, etc., have not affected the efficiency of Insurance and forget it existing policies.

We will gladly help you take inventory of your risks.

ING SEEKING EACE, HE TELLS ARLIAMENT

eclares for Policy of Non-Interference in China's Internal Affairs

London, Feb. 8—King George today ened parliament with one of the ortest speeches on record for a like asion.

Chief interest in the king's speech ntered on his remarks concerning the inese situation. After declaring that had felt it necessary to dispatch ned forces to the far east to protect itish residents in China, as a result the recent rioting at Hankow and anti-British agitation throughout ina, the king said it was the desire the British government and people place their future relations with on a basis of friendship and good He declared for a policy of non-erference in the internal affairs of ina.

"The continuous civil war in China d the anti-foreign, and particularly anti-British, agitation with which it been accompanied, have caused me are anxiety," King George said.

Seeks Peaceful Settlement

"As a consequence of what happened ently at Hankow and at other places, r government felt it necessary to dis-tch to the far east a sufficient force protect my British and Indian sub-cts against mob violence and armed ack.

"But I earnestly desire a peaceful ttlement of the difficulties which have isen, and my government has caused ppeals to be made to the Chinese thorities which should convince the blic opinion in China and through-the world that it is the desire of the itish people to remove all real easons to renew our treaties on an equitable basis and to place our future relations with the Chinese people on a footing of friendship and good will.

"My government will maintain our traditional policy of non-interference in the internal affairs of China."

The king touched briefly on other matters to come before the present session of parliament, as follows:

"My relations with foreign powers will continue to be friendly.

"Proposals will be laid before you at an early date to enable effect to be given to the change in style of the titles of the sovereign. At the same time you will be invited to make consequential alterations in the title of parliament."

The reference to the changes in the titles of the sovereign and parliament had to do with the decisions arrived at by the recent imperial conference in London altering the status of the dominions of the British empire to those of equal component nations.

The king announced that a "bill to encourage production and exhibition of British films" would be presented to parliament.

Hope that the signs of improvement in industry and trade would continue and that there would be no hampering industrial strife was voiced by the king.

The cabinet decision on the diversion of troops now enroute to Shanghai was indefinitely postponed today when it was learned that Sun Chuan Fang's forces have turned the Cantonese back. It was said that since the Shanghai settlement is in no immediate danger it will not be decided whether the troops will land there until they have reached Chinese water, which will be some three weeks hence.

If the suggestion of Secretary Kellogg that the international settlement be declared outside the war zone, is adopted the British policy would necessarily have to be changed accordingly.

SUN TURNS BACK CANTONESE FORCE

Shanghai, Feb. 8—While news from the war front in the vicinity of Hangchow today indicated that General Sun Chuan-Fang had turned the scale of defeat against the invading Cantonese armies, thus apparently staying off the prospects of immediate fighting in the vicinity of Shanghai, officials of the international settlement continued to hold themselves prepared for any emergency.

"We are hoping for the best, but we are preparing for the worst," said American Consul General Clarence E. Gauss. He added that he was not worrying about the situation at Shanghai.

Reports from Nanking, Sun's headquarters, indicated that Sun Chuan-Fang's answer to the recent United States proposal to create Shanghai a neutral zone will be to point out that the Nationals are the aggressors in the present campaign, and that therefore he has been compelled to resist the southerners' advance toward Shanghai.

Dispatches from Hankow said the nationalists were optimistic regarding the prospects of signing a sino-British agreement, following the resumption of negotiations between Eugene Chen, Nationalist foreign minister, and Owen O'Malley, British charge d'affaires. The demonstrations at Hankow yesterday were orderly.

The Cantonese armies are reported now to be nearing the border of Kiangsi province and it is estimated that their position is about 100 miles from Shanghai, which leads observers here to anticipate the failure of the present thrust against Shanghai.

The Cantonese are bringing up reinforcements but they are at a great distance from their main base of supplies and this has hampered their attack.

The forces of Sun Chuan Fang are being reinforced and it has been possible to relieve the troops in the front line, thus giving the wearied Cantonese forces new troops to operate against.

REPORT SOVIET MASSING TROOPS

London, Feb. 8—Reports received in Peking say the soviets are massing Russian troops along the Siberian-Manchurian frontier, according to a Central News dispatch today from Peking.

Marshal Chang Tso-Lin, war lord governor of Muchuria and bitter foe of the soviet regime of Moscow, is being urged to leave Peking and return at once to Mukden, capital of Manchuria.

AUTO ACCIDENTS BASIS OF TWO DAMAGE SUITS

Robert S. Mason, 10, Plaintiff in One Action Against Yellow Cab Co.

Automobile accidents are the basis of two damage suits filed in Municipal Court, the first damage actions started in the tribunal since it began operating on Jan. 1. One of the suits, resulting from alleged injury of a boy when struck by a taxi, is for $13.05 and the other, the outcome of an automobile collision, is for $30.40.

Robert S. Mason, 10, is plaintiff in the first suit, the petition having been filed by his father, Eldie Mason, against F. C. Baldwin, head of the Yellow Cab Co. and the Quick Service Taxi Co.

The petition relates that the afternoon of Dec. 31 the boy was crossing on Mt. Vernon-av and was struck by a tax owned and operated by the defendant. The car, it is alleged, was traveling 20 miles an hour over an ice-covered pavement.

Hearing Feb. 10

The case has been set for hearing on Feb. 10.

The second suit was brought by Francis Davis against Pearl L. Malone. Davis states that on Dec. 26 he was driving his Maxwell touring car east on Silver-st toward the Prospect-st intersection and that his car was struck by an Oldsmobile owned and driven by Malone. The Malone machine, according to the petition, was going west on the left hand side of Silver-st.

Davis asks judgment for $30.40 to cover damage to the wheel and fenders of his car.

The case has been docketed for hearing at 2 o'clock Feb. 15.

TRUSTEES OF FIREMEN'S INDEMNITY FUND NAMED

Board Reorganizes by Reelecting James Ryan Secretary; Strayer Chairman

Annual election of trustees of the Firemen's Indemnity Fund took place yesterday, ballots being cast between 9 a. m. and 6 p. m. at the three engine houses of the local Fire Department.

The trustees elected for 1927 are Owen A. Sifritt, Fred Reiff, Charles Thurston, C. E. Markel and James Ryan, all members of the department.

Following count o fthe ballots, the board met and organized by re-electing James Ryan, secretary. W. H. Strayer, director of public safety, is chairman by virtue of his office.

Reports read at the meeting showed that expenditures from the fund last year totaled only $19. The money is used to compensate firemen injured in the performance of duty.

It is expected that some time this year application will be made to City Council to establish a firemen's pension fund to take the place of the indemnity fund. The pension plan would provide for retirement of firemen on part pay after having been in the service for a stipulated period of years.

Should this change be made, money now in the indemnity fund would be transferred for use in the payment of pensions. The indemnity fund was established about five years ago and now shows a balance of almost $15,000.

C., D. & M. BEGINS BUS SERVICE IN DELAWARE

Two Placed in Operation Today and Third Held in Reserve for Emergency

City motor bus service today was inaugurated in Delaware by the Columbus, Delaware, and Marion Electric Co. Two buses were placed in operation while a third is held in reserve for emergency use. One bus covers the city east and west while the other operates north and south.

The new motor buses were taken from this city to Delaware last night by J. L. Price, manager of the Marion Buick Co., and placed in operation immediately. They are Buicks and have a capacity of twelve persons and the driver. They are deep yellow in color.

The new buses replace the old city cars. The cars were abandoned by the C., D. & M. Electric Co. about four months ago. They had been operated at a loss practically all of the time they were in use, C., D. & M. officials claim.

The street car tracks on Williams-st in Delaware have been covered in repaving of the street. The main tracks through the city are used only for the C., D. & M. interurban.

Marion Residents Soon Will Be Able to Phone Overseas

MARION residents will have the privilege of telephoning to their friends in overseas countries on and after Wednesday, Feb. 9.

Information to this effect came here this morning in a letter from W. G. Berry of Cleveland, general commercial superintendent of the Ohio Bell Telephone Co., stating that trans-Atlantic communication will be established on that date to all points in Ohio.

The letter, giving complete details regarding the service and instructions to officials and employes at the local exchange, was received this morning by A. J. Berry, manager of the Marion County Telephone Co.

Limited at Present

At present, overseas communication is limited to England, Scotland and Wales, but further extensions will be made into northern Ireland at a later date, the letter states.

It is reported that rivalry is keen between persons and firms who wish to have the distinction of making the first trans-Atlantic call and in order that no favoritism may be shown the Bell Co. has issued orders against any preference being given applicants.

All requests for overseas service will be filed according to the order in which they are received and connections will be made in the same sequence, it is announced.

In other words, it will be a case of "first come, first served."

The time for receiving applications began at 8:30, Eastern Standard time, today, the letter of instructions received at the local office states. Copies of the same letter were sent to all exchanges in the state.

Rate Schedule

The schedule of rates announced show that persons taking advantage of the new service will act wisely if they waste no words in their trans-Atlantic conversations. The rate from Marion is $75 for three minutes and $16 for each additional minutes with a $10 "report" charge.

Rapid progress is being made in extensions of the new service, which was started only a few weeks ago in New York City, when the first trans-Atlantic conversation took place.

LUCY LILLIAN DAVIS, 11, DIES AT FIES-AV HOME

Child Had Practically Recovered from Typhoid Fever; Funeral To Be Thursday

Lucy Lillian Davis, 11-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Davis, died yesterday at the home of her parents, 355 Fies-av, after an illness of several weeks. She had been ill a few months ago with typhoid fever but was apparently in good health again until a few weeks ago when complications set in.

She was born in Delaware, Dec. 10, 1915, and moved here with her parents, a short time later. Besides her father and mother, the little girl is survived by four brothers and a sister, Paul, Albert, and Harry at home; John Davis, Waterloo-st; and Gladys Davis at home. A brother, William, died last November, of typhoid fever.

Funeral services will be held at the home on Fies-av, at 12:30, Thursday afternoon. Services will also be held at 2:30 in the Delaware Methodist church with burial in Oak Grove cemetery of that city.

ASSISTANT CHEF AT HOTEL HARDING DIES

Andrea Ghenco, 48, Victim of Paralytic Stroke; Born in Constantinople

Andrea Ghenco, 48, assistant chef at Hotel Harding, died at 5:30 o'clock this morning at his home, 135 Garden-st. Death was caused by a stroke of paralysis from which he suffered for seven hours and a half.

Mr. Ghenco was born in Constantinople Aug. 14, 1879, and lived there the greater part of his life. He was employed in the kitchen, at Hotel Harding under his son-in-law, Leon Bomas, chef.

He is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Anna Bomas, and two sons, Gus, 16, and William 4, all at home. His parents preceded him in death and also his wife who died Feb. 17, 1926.

Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon at the home, 135 Garden-st, in charge of Rev. Mr. Gergardes, pastor of the Orthodox Greek Church of Columbus. Burial will be made in Marion Cemetery.

CHARLES L. JUSTICE TO TAKE OFFICE WEDNESDAY

Marion Jurist in Lima Today Arranging for Start of Six-Year Term

Former Common Pleas Judge Charles L. Justice of this city will begin his six-year term as judge of the third Ohio district Court of Appeals at Lima, Wednesday. He went to Lima today to make final arrangements for formal induction into office at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning.

The Marion jurist's associates in the appellate court will be Kent W. Hughes of Lima and Phil M. Crow of Kenton.

Judge Justice was elected last November by a plurality of 25,000 votes, believed to be the largest ever given a candidate for the bench in the Third Ohio district. He carried all but one of the 16 counties in the district.

The new Appellate judge served as judge of the Marion County Court of Common Pleas until early in December, when he was succeeded by George B. Scofield. Judge Justice succeeds Ernest N. Warden, Napoleon, his opponent in the election.

Proposed House Club.

Turkish baths, swimming pools, billiard, pool and other game tables, devices for flesh reducing and muscle making and other devices for making members of the lower house handsome, hearty and strong are to be part of the equipment of a proposed new house building for which the site is to cost $800,000 and the building itself $6,500,000.

It is to be presumed, of course, that there will also be beauty parlors for marcelling, permanent waving, face-lifting, skin bleaching, massaging, hair-bobbing, manicuring and the many treatments in use today for the attainment of personal pulchritude. If there aren't, we'll soon hear a lot more on this equality-of-sex business.

It is explained that the present house office building affords each member only one room for his clerical force, whereas every member of the senate has at least two, which fact has for years been a cause for envy upon the part of members of the lower house. Another reason for the erection of the proposed new building is that the demands on the elevators of the present building are such that use of them is practically limited to congressmen and their constituents who may call on them, forcing secretaries and other employes to the frequent use of the stairways, which is naturally another source of grief.

"This public building item," says the Washington story telling of the proposed structure, "will not have to be passed on by the director of the budget. If it goes through the house, as seems likely, the senate will probably concur. The new building would cover a city block south of the capitol and west of the present house office building."

If the house has decided that it must have a new building at an initial cost, with site, of $7,300,000, exclusive of furniture and furnishings which no doubt will add enough more to make it a $10,000,000 proposition, and the senate is complaisant, we suppose the thing is just as good as put over. But in common honesty house members shouldn't refer to it as the house office building. It should be known as the house club.

Good, but Why the Delay?

We were somewhat amused when we read in our news columns, last Saturday, that "the finance committee of the city council is preparing to notify heads of all municipal offices and departments that operating costs must be kept at the lowest possible figure during 1927 in order to guard against the danger of a treasury deficit. These warning notices are based upon facts and figures disclosed this week by City Treasurer Asa Queen showing that the money available for municipal operating expenses this year will be $40,000 less than estimates upon which the annual appropriation ordinance was based."

One might imagine from the foregoing that members of the city council were in absolute ignorance of the sinking fund outlook until the city treasurer made his "disclosure" last week, which all who read know to be utter fole-de-rol. The city treasurer's announcement last week was not news to the members of council. It was the third statement made by him on the subject, the two preceding statements like that of last week having been printed in the Star at the time of their utterance. The first statement was made upon the initiative of Mr. Queen because of the fact that misleading statements regarding the city's financial condition had been uttered by members of the city government. The second statement was contained in an editorial in this paper, called out by repeated misleading statements to the same effect, the Star upon its own initiative having secured the only comprehensive and reliable statement of the city's financial condition given out to the public in the last ten or fifteen years. We have reason to know that council members were cognizant of the situation from both of these statements, and yet we read that the warning to retrench to the utmost was planned by the city finance committee the latter part of last week.

We have no fault to find with the finance committee for preparing to notify heads of departments to exercise economy. Not at all. The committee is to be commended for preparing to take such action and issuing such notices. But why the delay in so doing? Why was it not done weeks and weeks—months—ago? And why the intimation that the fact that the sinking fund was depleted and that the sinking fund trustees would have to draw upon the general operating fund, was unknown to the committee until last week?

In these days we soon forget, it is true, but the memories of newspaper readers are yet sufficiently good to recall that City Treasurer Queen had given repeated warnings of the financial condition of the city weeks and weeks ago.

The young matron who swam the Catalina channel says she took to swimming, only a year ago, to reduce. If the pictures of our champion women swimmers tell us anything, she never would have performed her swimming feat had she succeeded in her reducing.

The publisher of the New York tabloid, The Graphic, has been haled into court for violation of the law against indecent publications. We are not acquainted with the law, but unless it is fuller of holes than a sieve, the prosecutor surely should be able to strike pay dirt.

"From what we understand about him," says the Cincinnati Enquirer, "Senator Heflin isn't exactly what one would call a matter-of-fact man." As we understand it, when it comes to the portrayal of facts, Tom's an out-and-out impressionist.

An English historian says Lorna Doone never lived and that the story of that name was founded on a myth. Think of the hundreds of thousands of Americans who have paid out their good dollars chasing over a country merely because it was utilized by a novelist as the scene of his mythical story!

Considering the degree of care the senate exercises over its membership and then contemplating the membership, the thought is bound to obtrude that there must be something wrong with the quality of the care.

The New York World runs a chart showing how Henry Ford's income of $190.25 a minute increases his riches $11,415 a hour, $273,974 a day and $100,000,510 a year. If this keeps on, Uncle Henry will soon have all the money on earth and humanity will be staggering under the burden of its flivvers.

And now the experts say that poor barbering has doomed the bob, which is a bit hard to understand as any barber will confess without the slightest urging that he's an expert.

Having been approved by the house and passed by the senate the measure to prevent revolvers and pistols from being shipped through the mails, the purpose of which is to make it harder for bandits, thugs and other undesirables to acquire them, will now go to the president for his approval. The odd phase of the thing is that the bill wasn't passed till the bandits and thugs had abandoned revolvers and pistols for machine guns.

Poems That Live.

BLINDNESS.

God, when He gave us our eyes,
Made us a little blind—too mercifully wise
To let us in our fragile bodies see
Our part in life's incessant tragedy.

So now in blithesome mood we pass
With devastating feet across the grass,
Unconscious of the crushed and wounded things,
The writhing bodies and the broken wings.

We do not catch the dying eyes of beasts
Whose bodies grace the tables of our feasts,
Nor follow through the trail of suffering
From scattering shot among wild birds a-wing.

We do no, sense the wounds of careless words,
The brutal trampling of the human herds,
The withheld water and the food denied,
The thousand Christs we may have crucified.

Lord, who has made us frail and incomplete,
Save us from too much knowing, we entreat;
Keep us a little blind—we could not bear
Even the inevitable guilt we share.

Increasing Span of Human Life.

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

A friend of mine read an article I wrote the other day on youth as a state of mind. His comment was interesting. He said: "If a man likes the state in which he lives why does he move into another and thus lose his citizenship?"

Of course this figure must not be carried too far, because one can gain citizenship in the new state. But, after all, loss of a younger state is what happens to the man who gives up his youth. He leaves the state of youth or middle life, to accept meekly a place in the state of old age.

A well-ordered life, conducted in accord with the simple rules of hygiene, will permit one to dwell indefinitely in the state of youth. Ultimate death can not be avoided, of course, but the span of useful life can be extended materially.

As a matter of fact the expectation of life is increasing all the time. This fact was pointed out at the recent meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science by Dr. Hrdlicka of the Natural History museum at Washington. This great scientist has made a study of thousands of skulls and skeletons and can determine with reasonable accuracy the age at death of the original owners of these bones. As a result of his studies, Dr. Hrdlicka believes that the time of the greatest death-rate in adults in ancient and medieval days was in the forty-second year. Now, he says, the highest rate is in the seventy-second year.

This is another way of saying the average span of life is thirty years more than it was. Our own vital statistics show a material addition to the span of life during the last half century. With better habits the chances of living will continue to improve.

But it isn't enough simply to live and breathe. Unless the increased expectations of life is associated with effectiveness and usefulness it is hardly worth while, is it? Nobody would care to drag out his existence simply to live as a crippled, helpless and suffering old person. Unless the added days and weeks and years are experienced by one who can make a real use of them they are nothing to desire.

After middle life it is important to check up on the human machine. You know we get to be like "used" cars—we need more attention as we grow older.

It is an amazing thing how many persons never think of the body in the same terms they do of their automobiles. But why shouldn't they? Where is there a man-made machine in the world having such demands on it as are placed on the heart. All the organs of the body are working, most of them every minute.

It is infinitely more important to have an overhauling of your precious body than it is to spend money on your flivver. If you would continue in the state of youth and have the spirit to enjoy youth, you must keep your body in perfect repair.

ANSWERS TO HEALTH QUERIES.

E. S. M. Q.—What are among the symptoms of hardening of the arteries? Is there a definite cure?

A.—This is a condition usually associated with old age—high blood pressure usually accompanies it. Proper diet and care will give great relief but the condition can not be entirely cured. For further particulars send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question.

A. R. Q.—What can be done for a pain back of the knee which extends down to the heel?

A.—Massage should be helpful. The trouble may be due to rheumatism, overexertion or a possible arch condition. Have an examination if it persists.

I. Q. Q.—What causes one to feel tired and worried all the time?

2.—What causes dark circles under the eyes?

A.—This may be due to autointoxication, caused by retention of waste material in the system. Make sure the bowels eliminate properly. Send self-addressed, stamped envelope for full particulars and repeat your question.

2.—This may be due to either a kidney condition, constipation or lack of sleep. Find the cause, and the condition can be corrected.—Copyright, 1927.

The Way of the World.

BY GROVE PATTERSON.

They're getting some progressive ideas over in Indiana. A bill has been introduced in the legislature to raise the automobile speed limit to 40 miles an hour. It may commend itself to other states. It isn't how fast you drive or how slowly you drive that determines safety. It's how you drive.

Don't be disturbed about "chain" ownerships. Edward Filene, able Boston department store owner, says the chain store era has just begun. The tendency is all toward chain ownership of many different kinds of institutions. This doesn't mean each store or each institution can not and will not maintain its identity. It means economy of management, better equipment, and improved service.

The growth of the chain store and the chain institution idea reflects the best thought and the most able management of the modern business man.

The policy of being grateful for what we have and appreciative of the fact that conditions might be immeasurably worse, plus the policy of determination to do as well as we can with what we have, are the two major policies in bringing about a reasonable amount of contentment in all of us. If you do not always have the job you want, it is really amazing what you can do with the job you have. The capacity of the normal man for adjustment to circumstances is one of his richest assets.

Curious how slow we are to learn there are some things we can not legislate against. Authorities of Knox and Lombard colleges in Galesburg, Illinois, have been meeting in solemn session to see what they can do to stop student elopements. It seems that every now and then the young men and the young women of these nearby schools run away and get married. So some of the so-called wise heads of the institutions think they will put an end to it by some sort of a rule. It can't be done. Young men and young women will marry when, whom, and where they choose. Sam Jones's "Golden Rule" mayor, used to say that the law is what the people will stand for. The young human-being won't stand for a rule against elopement.

Russians, Domestic and Foreign.

[Cincinnati Enquirer.]

Recently the Third Internationale issued from Moscow the following pronunciamento:

"American imperialism is becoming bolder and cruder in trying to colonize the whole of Latin-America. We proclaim the necessity of war against the mightiest capitalistic regime and imperialism of the United States. From the Rio Grande to Terra del Fuego the population must organize in powerful movement against the exploitation and spoliation of the United States."

And on the very day that this manifesto was being published throughout this country, Burton K. Wheeler, senator of the United States, stood before a New York audience to declare:

"We are hell bent on the meanest kind of imperialistic policy. What hypocrisy—yes, what cowards you are in the face of the pretensions of your statesmen and your near-statesmen when you let your own government permit a few mercenaries in your fair city of New York to take away the sovereignty of a free people in Nicaragua, in Haiti, in Santo Domingo, in Mexico or in any other country!"

It might be a good thing if Senator Wheeler and some of his kind could enjoy the experience of some others—not New York "mercenaries"—among the "free" peoples of the sovereign states he mentions. In such case he certainly would come home and he would soon come home—shorn of some of his Russian illusions and, perhaps, of about everything else, including his senatorial trousers.

Wheeler and his kind are making trouble enough for this country. Everything here is wrong; everything in Russia, Mexico or Timbuctu is all right. Those people join with the Third Internationale in denouncing about everything in America but prohibition and fundamentalism. They interpret Americanism to mean imperialism. They foment seditions in the minds of foreign morons. Borah and Wheeler today are tremendously popular in Moscow and Mexico City. Feeling as they say they do, why don't they go to live in these new Communist paradises?

In the countries referred to by Wheeler, we are imperialistic because we have carried business there and wish to be protected in its conduct; because we say to them: "You shall not murder American citizens resident in your country. You must preserve order and pay your debts;" because, in the interests of civilization and humanity, we desire to help defenseless peoples exploited, not by New York capitalistic "mercenaries," but by corrupt and incorrigible cormorants who have assumed control of public affairs for their own aggrandizement.

American so-called imperialism has never done anything but good for its "victims."

Who's Who and Why.

MISS MARY ANDERSON.

Mary Anderson was born in Lidkoping, Sweden, August 27, 1872. She was educated in Sweden, but came to the United States at the age of sixteen and entered the garment-making industry at West Pullman, Chicago. Later she worked in a shoe factory for eighteen years, becoming the women's representative in the National Shoe and Boot Workers' union. She has traveled throughout the United States as an organizer. In the early part of the World war, Miss Anderson served in the women in industry section of the national defense advisory committee. Later she became assistant to the chief of the women's bureau, department of labor. On August 15, 1919, she was appointed director of the bureau, a position which she has held since that time.

New York Day by Day.

BY O. O. McINTYRE.

New York, Feb. 8.—For "Lovely Phrase of the week I nominate the restaurant on Fifty-Second street, whose slogan is: "The cafe with the gorgeous gustatory gurgle!" And in contrast is another reading: "Not like a noisy terminal, but the peace of a sublimated mansion."

High-blown verbiage for restaurant advertising has become an art in a city that lives to eat. Dreamy and long-haired idealists are hired to rhapsodize over prosaic chicken livers. All the classy adjectives are employed to stress gastronomic charms.

Dishes about as romantic as a fat man looks in a night shirt are flossed up something swell and one restaurateur has this to say of his corned beef and cabbage: "Only those with a sapphic sense of food will appreciate this rare Epicurean treasure." Isn't that swell?

Even a Broadway ham and eggery's window card reads: "Golden brown wheat cakes with the light fluff of sea foam." It has been suddenly discovered that press-agenting food pays. The restaurant with the largest patronage in town is one whose menu is entirely French.

Few can translate it, but the high-sounding items appear to add glamour and whet the appetite. Another most excellent eating place suffered because it was off the beaten path. It began a series of newspaper advertisements, ballyhooing exclusiveness.

Floppishly-groomed men were shown dining with languid ladies at thin-legged tables. Catch lines suggested that only those in black face type in the Social register would find welcome and in a short space it was puffed into amazing popularity.

In New York a stand-offish gesture will usually swell receipts, provided, of course, the gesture is a gesture and nothing more. When old Martin's—pronounced Martan's—announced strictly formal dress it drew crowds but when it actually enforced the rule it was forced to close.

Those who snigger at baseball players turning writers for the big series, may be interested to know that one of the most graphic writers of the state in New York is John Conway, a former player with the Giants. It was Conway who coined "good theater," "zowied them," "laid 'em out in the aisle," and other picturesque phrases now in general use.

The old time periodical spree has gone out. In the wild canyons of Broadway. The quality of the cheerio will not sustain the protracted jag. Men and women buckle up after a night or two. The proprietor of a famous hotel of other days tells of two men who used to launch a two weeks' bender with instructions drinks be sent to their rooms every thirty minutes. They did not consume all, of course, but quaffed a goodly portion and after a few days lost at the end of the spree, they would return fresh to their jobs and await the next jour. Such sprees today would end in the funeral parlors.

Broadway was enlivened with one of those murder car stunts again the other day. In a crowded section the car swung around a corner and occupants began firing from both hips. Luckily they were poor shots and the victim standing in front of a restaurant, were unarmed. It was almost a replica of the famed Rosenthal shooting. I happened to be a block away and the way the crowded street became as desolated as a country churchyard in a jiffy was something to write to the folks.

Today's Worst Story.

BY WILL ROGERS

Well, it won't be long now till the city folks that are lucky enough to have back yards will be planting the seeds of trouble in their kitchen gardens again. People never learn much about such things. If there was a row with all its neighbors on account of their chickens and dogs and kids spoiling the garden, why maybe this year there won't be any trouble at all.

Minneapolis is a good town for home gardens, and the folks there like to see flowers and vegetables grow. But last summer there was a guy that was up early one morning, digging a little deeper than usual in his garden. His neighbor across the fence came out and yelled at him:

"What are you going to put in those holes?"

"Why, radish seeds, if it's any of your business."

"Radish seeds your foot! Looks to me like some of my chickens you're planting."

"Yeah. But the radish seeds are inside the chickens."—Copyright, 1927.

"What's all this noise about, you young rascal?" he asked in mock anger.

"Well, Mary said if I kept on crying a man with great big green eyes would come and sit on the end of my bed. I've kept on crying, but it hasn't come yet!"

NEW RAILROAD BRIDGE BEING PLACED TODAY

Bucyrus, Feb. 8—As soon as Pennsylvania train No. 7 passed over the old railroad bridge across the Sandusky River at 10:02 today engineers planned to move the new bridge span into place. Officials expected to have the new bridge in place one minute after the work of moving is started. Railroad officials were to attend.

FOR Sour Stomach PHILLIPS' Milk of Magnesia

Hereafter instead of soda take a little "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" in water any time for indigestion or sour, acid, gassy stomach, and relief will come instantly.

Better Than Soda

For fifty years genuine "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" has been prescribed by physicians because it overcomes three times as much acid in the stomach as a saturated solution of bicarbonate of soda, leaving the stomach sweet and cent and fifty cent bottles, any drug- free from all gases. Besides, it neutralizes acid fermentations in the bowels and gently urges this souring waste from the system without purging. It is far more pleasant to take than soda.

Try a 25c Bottle

Insist upon "Phillips." Twenty-five store. "Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1875.—Adv.

$50,000.00 Contest
prize winning
true story

IN True Story Magazine for March appears the most powerful true story ever written.

It is a tale so outstandingly different, so virile, so potent with truth and life and love and conflict, so deeply moving, so powerfully compelling that by unanimous decision of the judges it was awarded the first prize in the mammoth $50,000 true story contest recently conducted by True Story Magazine in which upwards of fifty thousand manuscripts were received from all over the world.

A Tale of the Cumberland Mountains

It is a story of the city and of the wilderness. Of a gently reared girl accustomed to the refinement and culture of genteel city life set abruptly down amid the Kentucky lumber camps, there to be swept off her feet, blinded to the realities of life, by forces over which she had no control. Of a community of rough-hewn mountain folk rent asunder by the coming among them of a girl whose sweet dignity and reserve, whose stylish mode of dress, everything about her so different from the girls they knew, aroused in the hearts of the river men and lumber jacks a raging storm of conflict.

A tale of rushing, log-jammed streams. Of primitive passions surging in the breasts of men who feared neither God, nor man, nor devil. Who constantly courted violent death as a part of each day's work. A tale of tears and blood and tragedy, of hate and love and jealousy. Of a titanic battle for a bewildered woman's heart. While over all hung the dread menace of the double-bitted ax, one blade of which was red. It is entitled "Stronger Than Death."

MARGERY

from the depths of whose grief-stricken heart comes this lonely cry.

"John Devignet still pleads with me to marry him and let him take me away from the hills and the drudgery of teaching in the little mission school, but it seems to me that the decision has been taken from my hands by fate. I want to go with him—oh, God, I'd give my soul to go, for I love him with every fibre of my being, but I can't drive away the picture of George's wistful, ashen, hopeless, pleading face, across that tawny current of spray and logs.

"I've tried to forget, but the memory clings too vividly. Is it that I must sacrifice my happiness in atonement for the crime that I have done?"

GEORGE ELLIS

Tall, diffident with strangers, slow of speech, this "Boss" of the lumbermen was also big and handsome. And one of the most fearless, most daring men that ever swung an ax or rode the logs in the boiling current of the treacherous river. His word was law among his men. But could he make it carry weight with a woman—and such a woman as Margery?

The Author says:

"Stronger Than Death" is an account of the tragic experience that befell a dear friend when she, a girl of culture and refinement, accepted the position as teacher in a mission school deep in the fastnesses of the Cumberland Mountains.

"I have written in the first person, first because the rules of the contest require that all stories submitted be in the first person, and second because I have set it down so nearly the way she herself told it to me that I feel justified in presenting it as coming from her own lips."

H. M. Sutherland

The Author A World War Veteran

Written by Mr. H. M. Sutherland, world war veteran and resident of a Virginia town in the foot-hills of the Cumberland Mountains, it is the tragic drama that befell one of his dearest friends. Margery, about whom the story revolves, did not feel that she could do the story justice. The events were all too recent—so close that her perspective was lost. But she told it all to Mr. Sutherland. And he in turn, using rare discrimination out of his sympathy and understanding, has set down what is without doubt the most powerful true story ever written. Not a pretty story. Powerful stories rarely are. But a deeply moving story, a gripping story, an epic tale told just as it was lived. Easily the outstanding story of all the fifty thousand received in the greatest true story contest ever conducted. You will find it in True Story Magazine for March, now on sale, at all newsstands.

JOHN DEVIGNET

College-bred, son of the owner of the logging operations, John Devignet represented a side of life of which George Ellis knew but little. When he came to the logging camps as general superintendent, the men were prepared to laugh at him as a civilized dandy, who would crumble at every obstacle. But they learned that he could take care of himself in war or love.

BRETHREN REVIVAL

Interest Increasing In Services Held By Rev. W. H. Howard

Interest in the revival in progress at First United Brethren Church, is increasing daily, according to a statement today made by Rev. W. H. Howard, pastor. An unusually large crowd attended the service last night at which Reverend Howard spoke on the subject, "The Boy Hero." The text found in the prophesy of Daniel, the first and eighth verses.

"Babylon with her walls, palaces, temples, hanging gardens, commerce, mighty Euphrates, and marvelous culture and boundless wealth was great," Reverend Howard said, "but that which was greater than Nebuchenezzar of Babylon was that young man with a heroic nature standing against odds upon the eternal adamant of moral integrity, and breasting appalling opposition, who calmly recolved. 'I will not.'"

Such a purpose under such circumstances would deserve to be called the rashness of a mad man were it not for one fact, which, in comparison to other facts, is trivial. And that is the stupendous fact that 'There is a God.'

"Daniel with his three Hebrew worthies stood the test and showed the beauty of a Godly life and a boldness to stand against all odds."

Reverend Howard will preach on the subject "Sin and Its Consequences" at the service at 7:30 o'clock tonight. Special music by the choir will be directed by B. K. Hill. The public is invited to attend.

PLAN BIBLE STUDY

In-His-Name Circle, King's Daughters Hold Meeting

Plans were made to take up the Bible Study advised by the state conference at the meeting of members of In-His-Name Circle, King's Daughters, last night at the home of Mrs. Burton Anderson, Baker-st. Mrs. John Loeffert Jr., assisted as hostess. Mrs. H. Bausinger presided for the devotional service and Mrs. Delton Drake contributed a paper, "Creation." "Our First Ancestors," was the subject of a paper by Mrs. Harry Lust.

Arrangements were completed for the waffle supper to be held Wednesday night in the basement at Emanuel's Lutheran Church, and also for a sewing meeting Feb. 16 at the City Hospital. Mrs. Harry Lust is chairman for the sewing meeting. Announcement was made of the meeting of members of the City Union Thursday night at the First Presbyterian Church, at which time Mrs. W. D. CHAPTER THIRTY-FOUR

I spent two days in the company of these mad folk, and I think my sanity could not have survived a longer ordeal. I endeavored for the most part to keep to my room, where at least I was alone. I had, however, to descend sometimes to the dining room for food, and often I found my door locked against me on my return, owing either to the malice of the Japanese servants or, more probably, to the orders of the Center or Doctor Kuntz. I was then compelled either to remain in the dining room or the salon, or to walk in a small space between the wall of the house and the great steel fence which I have already mentioned. In any of these places Doctor Kuntz's patients were always to be found.

On the morning of the second day I had a hideous scene with the woman, Mina. Most of the patients, after regarding me with suspicion as a heathen stranger, were by that time trying continually to make of me their proselyte. The woman Mina was especially zealous and on this occasion exerted herself for hours in an attempt to persuade me to take the drug. Pursuing me frantically with argument and entreaty, passing from an infinitely grotesque cajolery to shrill menace and foul abuse. My refusal to be one of them seemed to irritate these poor wrecks, either because in their more lucid moments some of them I think, realized how far removed their state was from that of the normal individual, or from a kind of missionary frenzy induced by their disease.

My only talisman during these two dreadful days was my memory of Patience, to whom my thoughts were frequently directed. The spell of her smile and the riddle of her inconsequent spirit were remembered in a mood which made me look back on our long journey in the open car with strange feeling difficult to define.

It was on the morning of the third day that a note was brought to me when I woke.

Dear Mr. Quexter, it ran:

Will you give me the pleasure of lunching with me today and afterwards taking a walk on the mountainside. The view, from the top of the Gierschzer Alp is very beautiful. I will trust to your honor not to make any attempt to escape.

Patience Smith.

I read through the note twice, undecided at first what course to pursue. Was I to be subjected to another appeal? I could hardly think so, since there was nothing further the Center could wish to know. I could not, moreover, believe that Patience would again lend herself to his plans.

I was not long in making up my mind. After what I had endured the prospect of even a brief escape from the enferno in which I was imprisoned was too cordially welcome to be refused.

"Mademoiselle waits answer," said the Japanese servant who had brought me the missive.

I took a pencil and scribbled on the back of the note:

Dear Miss Smith,

I shall be delighted to lunch with you and to take a walk upon the conditions you state.

R. W. Quexter.

I handed this to the servant, and he departed, returning afterwards with breakfast. It was the first occasion upon which a meal had been brought to me in my own room, with the exception of dinner on the first night. I was glad to think that I might owe this privilege to Patience, and I hoped it would never again be necessary to join the other inmates of this dreadful place.

At one o'clock a servant knocked on the door and requested me to accompany him. We walked down the corridor, through the padded door which I had noticed two days previously, and into a long cool room where I found her awaiting me. She was dressed very simply in a tweed coat and skirt, and on her head was a small felt hat with a blue kingfisher feather.

"Well, Robert?" she said, as I approached her. "I hope time has not been too heavy on your hands since we last met," and she held out both her hands.

She looked at me with an expression of polite inquiry which, in face of what I had suffered during the last few days, was somewhat disconcerting.

"Patience," I said, "surely you must know. I have been living in black misery these last two days.

For a moment she seemed to be surprised into a vivid sympathy. Then she shrugged her shoulders.

"I have nothing to do with that," she said lightly. "Let's go into the other room. I'm hungry and luncheon is ready for us."

She turned and led the way into a small sunny room, where by the open window stood a table elegantly set for two. We were soon discussing an excellent meal.

It was Patience who next referred to my sufferings.

"Robert," she said, "isn't it just a little unfair to speak to me as you did a moment ago? I have had nothing at all to do with your treatment these last few days. That was the Center. He wishes you to suffer what he calls 'inconvenience for intervention'."

"Inconvenience"! I protested hotly. "Is that how he describes being shut up with a lot of madmen for two whole days?"

"That's not at all polite," she remonstrated. "These people are our guests. This, you know, is a home for drug addicts—a very reputable house, I assure you, subject to government inspection once a quarter, all quite aboveboard and entirely free from criticism."

"Patience, how can you be so heartless? You must know that Doctor Kuntz isn't making the slightest effort to cure these wretches. On the contrary, he supplies them with the drug whenever they ask for it. Who is this man, anyway, and how does he come to be here?"

"He is an extremely clever doctor, I believe," said Patience lightly. "But he made a mistake years ago—something to do with an operation. I'm told that he used to drink heavily and once, when he was very drunk, a man was brought to him with a damaged eye. He was so drunk, Mr. Quexter, that he removed the wrong eye by mistake, and the man went blind for the rest of his life. That ruined him, until he met the Center. The Center saw his worth and set him up here. It is a very useful headquarters, you know."

"Is that why he acts as butler?" I inquired.

"Partly," replied Patience, "and partly to deceive persons like yourself of whom we are not sure. But he really does know a great deal about drug poisoning. It would be quite impossible to deprive these addicts of their drugs. The cases you saw are hopeless. It would kill them to take away their poison."

"Do you mean to say that they can never possibly be cured?"

"Very rarely," said Patience. "We have tried substituting other drugs, but that doesn't answer. They merely take two kinds of poison instead of one."

I looked at her in amazement. The cool and natural way in which she alluded to these horrors deprived me of the secret hope which I had been fostering that she at least was not a party to the proceedings of the Center and his associates. I knew now that she was one of them, though to what extent and degree I was unable to conjecture.

"Good heavens," I burst out. "How can you sit there calmly talking of this horror, knowing that you are the cause of it—that you are helping to supply thousands of persons with the drug that is killing them?"

She shrugged her shoulders.

"How am I responsible?" she asked. "I believe in people doing as they choose. If they want to take drugs, let them do so. They harm only themselves, and incidentally they put money, lots of money, into our pockets."

"I see," I said. "That's the reason, is it?"

I could not keep from my voice the involuntary contempt with which this confession inspired me. She seemed for a moment to shrink under it, but almost at once flew into rebellion.

"Why not?" she asked. "One must have money, or one has nothing at all. There are things I could never possibly do without—clothes and travel and fun in life. All these things I can get by helping the people who want drugs to get them. Money, why there's no end to it."

"Money," I interjected, "made out of the misery and weakness of human nature."

"If I didn't make it, some one else would. Besides, think of the excitement of it all, the game of foiling the police of the whole world."

"Nonsense," I exclaimed impatiently.

SCOTCH PLAIDS

Many Style Hints Coming From Scotland, Claim

Hollywood, Cal., Feb. 8—If the vogue for Scotch plaids and heather sweaters keeps up milady will be doing the Highland fling instead of the Black Bottom.

Screen stars and players now receive many of their style tips from Scotland instead of Paris.

Highland plaids that represent many different clans are glimpsed along Hollywood boulevard.

Renee Adoree, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer player, was born in France but this season she's quite Scotch in a spring coat of Scotch plaid in red, yellow and blue. The tam hat that she wears with this boasts a long green feather.

The Scotch fad is particularly suitable for golf. Dorothy Sebastian may not be able to make a hole in one but she is certainly effective on the course in a plaid skirt, made exactly like a kilt and plaid stockings that do not cover the knee.

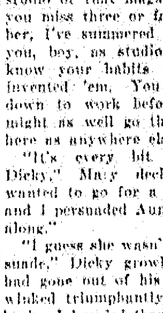
The cardigan sweater, heather effect, is worn in a mixture of colors.

Quicksands of Love

BY ADELE GARRISON

Rough Handling

My indignation against Mrs. Baker, the mysterious fourth-floor lodger, steadily grew with every minute succeeding Mary's revelation of the woman's abominable action. If I had followed my first surge of anger I should have gone directly to her room as soon as Mary and I returned from our morning walk in the park. But I realized that the woman with whom I had to deal was unusually crafty, and, therefore, dangerous. I must know exactly what I meant to say when I talked to her. After all, I reflected, I had all day in which to consider her problem, for I had no appointment at the Veritzen offices until the morrow, and had planned to work at home until then.



So, with no further reference to Mrs. Baker, I walked back with my husband's young niece to the house, finding the entire family gathered in the living-room, Dicky openly fuming as we came in.

"For sliding down the cellar door!" he exclaimed as we entered. "What's the big idea? Breakfast's been ready this quarter of an hour and Katie is tearing her hair out by the roots. And I've missed two buses!"

"Get back into your cage, Dicky-bird," Lillian advised, with a grin, but there was a perceptible edge to her voice, nevertheless and I think my husband recognized it. "You know it won't make any difference in your work at the studio or that magazine office whether you miss three or four more. Remember, I've summered and wintered with you, boy, as studio neighbors, and I know your habits as well as if I'd invented 'em. You never get real down to work before noon, and you might as well go through the motions here as anywhere else."

"It's every bit my fault, Uncle Dicky," Mary declared stoutly. "I wanted to go for a walk in the park, and I persuaded Auntie Madge to come along."

"I guess she wasn't very hard to persuade," Dicky growled, but the anger had gone out of his voice, and Lillian winked triumphantly at me behind his back. I hurried them all to the breakfast table, and seconded Lillian's nonsense through the meal, a proceeding which gradually cleared the mental atmosphere so thoroughly that when Dicky left for the office he was laughing and had assured Lillian that he would keep his evenings free from social appointments until she decided upon the date of the dinner she meant to give in honor of my father. That was but a pretext for the real object of her dinner. The introduction of Noel Veritzen to Mary was something of which Lillian gave no hint to Dicky, and when she and I were alone together—for Katherine with Junior left with Mary immediately after Dicky's departure—she executed a triumphant dance step or two and then swept me an elaborate bow.

"There! That's settled," she said. "I've launched the dinner. Dicky will save time for it, and Mary hasn't the slightest idea that Noel will be invited. Hello! What's on your mind? You'd better spill it if it's as important as it seems to be."

Her keen eyes had seen that I was distrait, not listening to her plan. I flushed apologetically as I answered:

"Forgive me, Lillian. I know I wasn't listening as I ought. But I've got to tackle that Baker woman this morning, and I can't help worrying about it. I want your advice about it before I go up there."—Copyright, 1927, by Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.

If we could see ourselves as others see us, we would undoubtedly profit by the lesson we could put over.

Home-made, but Ends Coughs In a Hurry

A family supply of dependable cough medicine. Easily made and saves about $2

If you have a severe cough or chest cold, with soreness, throat tickle, hoarseness, or difficult breathing, or if your child wakes up at night with a hoarse cough, and you want quick help, try this reliable old home-made cough remedy. Any druggist can supply you with 2½ ounces of Pinex. Pour this into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. Or use clarified honey, if desired. This makes a pint of really remarkable cough remedy. It tastes good, and in spite of its low cost, can be depended upon to give quick and lasting relief.

You can feel this take hold of a cough in a way that means business. It loosens and raises the phlegm, stops throat tickle and soothes and heals the irritated membranes of the throat and bronchial tubes with an ease and promptness that is really astonishing.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract and palatable guaiacol, and is probably the best known means of overcoming severe coughs, throat and chest colds.

There are many worthless imitations of this mixture. To avoid disappointment, ask for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

TO sun curing is attributed the delightful flavor of Golden Sun coffee as well as the aromatic, lingering fragrance. Every berry is "sun cured." Waste moisture is gradually eliminated. Only the rich, mellow essential oils remain. Golden Sun coffee refreshes the body, gratifies the taste, warms the heart. It brightens thought with its welcome good cheer. "Marvelous for breakfast," they say. But at all times and all places when really good coffee is important, there is no substitute for Golden Sun coffee.

And the price is moderate. Ask your grocer.

SUSPECT HELD AT PORTAGE, O., SHERIFF LEARNS

Man Wanted for Passing $8,500 Check in Hardin County Under Arrest

Kenton, Feb. 8—A suspect wanted in Kenton and Mt. Victory on charges of passing worthless checks has been apprehended in Portage, Ohio, on similar charges, according to word received late Monday by John W. Crooks, Hardin County Sheriff.

Armed with an affidavit, Deputy Sheriff Waldo Haudenschield left for Portage last night to place the suspect under arrest in event authorities there dismiss charges against him.

Passed $8,500 Check

The man who signed his name as R. C. Trenton, is wanted here for passing an alleged worthless check for $8,500 on J. J. Rumbaugh, prominent resident of the Scioto marsh district. The check, drawn on an Ada bank, was given Rumbaugh in payment for onions which the man said he was purchasing for a leading chain grocery company. After completing the transaction he said he had some used sacks which Rumbaugh bought giving his check for $390.

When the $8,500 check was presented for payment at the bank it was turned down. The suspect still had the Rumbaugh check in his pockets when arrested, officials said.

During the past week the same man is believed by officials to have evoked a similar scheme upon a Mt. Victory painter. While in that town he posed as a signboard builder and was accompanied by a small boy.

RETURNS HOME

Richwood, Feb. 8—Benjamin Chapman who has been in Oklahoma for the past year has returned to the home of his father, Dode Chapman. Mr. Chapman is a World War veteran and passed through a very serious illness of typhoid fever just recently.

If You're Afraid Of Gall Stones Watch These Signs

Women at the changing time of life and many middle aged men should watch out for hepatic torpidity, and gall bladder inflammation, often resulting in gall stones.

Such warning signs as dizzy spells, headaches, shortness of breath, gas in stomach and bowel, pressure or sharp pains in right side that often shoot through to the back, coated tongue, bad breath, lack of ambition, weakness, nervousness or nights of restless misery caused by bad dreams and inability to sleep should have immediate attention or months or even years of miserable ill health and perhaps a dangerous surgical operation may result.

Everyone near or past middle life should guard against hepatic torpidity and gall bladder trouble. In the opinion of the writer, one of the best things in the world, for conditions of this kind is the inexpensive home use of "Klax-Ko" Tablets, which Bradley Drug Store or any other good druggist will supply on a binding guarantee to refund their cost, if easily noticeable beneficial results are not obtained inside of a week! Don't wait until your entire system is polluted with poisonous waste or until gall bladder inflammation or gall stones makes a dangerous operation necessary, but start the use of "Klax-Ko" Tablets today. If "Klax-Ko" does not help you, its use will not cost you a penny. —Adv.

DRILL EFFICIENCY SAVES STUDENTS

Kenton, Feb. 8—Alertness and proficiency in performing fire drills, probably saved several students in the third grade of the Dunkirk school from possible serious injuries.

Alarmed by a crackling noise the instructor, William Guy, Jr., discovered that a large section of the ceiling in the room had loosened and was sagging. With great presence of mind he sounded the fire alarm.

The students, in perfect order, filed to the fire escapes a second before a large section of the plastering and lath crashed to the floor.

COMMITTEE SELECTS CAGE TOURNAMENT DATES

Cardington and Mt. Gilead Floors To Be Scenes of Battles

Mt. Gilead, Feb. 8 — The athletic committee of Morrow county, composed of a number of superintendents of the county, has decided to hold the annual basketball tournament at Cardington on Friday, Feb. 25, and at Mt. Gilead, Saturday, Feb. 26. The games at Cardington will be played at the High school gym, and the finals at Mt. Gilead will be staged in Leverich Hall.

County Supt. W. A. Stage is manager of the tournament and has charge of securing referees and other officials. It was decided that instead of employing an official scorer and timer, that each school should furnish its own. No action was taken as to the procedure in case of disagreement.

With the tournament less than three weeks away, interest is rapidly developing, even more so than last year, when Mt. Gilead was the favorite to win. However, this year the boys' championship seems to be narrowed down to Cardington and Mt. Gilead, with betting odds about even. The three girls' teams considered in the running are Cardington, last year's champs, Iberia and Mt. Gilead.

CRAWFORD OFFICIALS PUZZLED OVER MYSTERY

Bullet-Riddled Body of Young Man Held at Crestline

Bucyrus, Feb. 8—Crawford County officials are still puzzled over the mystery revealed late Sunday when the bullet riddled body of an unidentified young man was found in an abandoned shack along the Pennsylvania railroad tracks west of Crestline. They have uncarthed no clues and there is much speculation here in regard to the apparent murder.

Frank Burns, "knight of the road", who approached the shack for shelter Sunday evening discovered the body and reported his discovery to Charles Foster, telegraph operator at Crestline.

The shack was in a fashion indicating that a fight preceeded the murder. The body was taken to Crestline. Officials have requested railroad officials to remove the shack.

Oldest Mason, Nearing 101, for Rum But Not "Bootleg"

Central Falls, R. I., Feb. 8—Newspaper men of Rhode Island and Massachusetts are looking forward to the observance of an annual custom; that of journeying to this community to interview Lepreiet M. Logee, who, it is claimed, is the oldest Mason in America. His 101st birthday occurred on Feb. 5.

The aged man who, in addition to being the oldest Maxon, is the oldest member of the Knights of Pythias of nearby Massachusetts, takes keen delight in parrying with representatives of the press. He is straightforward in his answers, has definite ideas and is not a bit slow in repartee.

His greatest hobby is the playing of "muggins" with dominoes. During the last fifteen years he has played probably more than 14,000 games with his friend, Henry Gallagher, and usually they are "nip and tuck affairs." Logee also finds amusement in another game, parchesi, which he plays nightly. It is almost a rite in his house that he and his housekeeper of fourteen years, Mrs. Matilda Robinson, should have two or three games of parchesi in the course of an evening.

Logee is held high in the esteem of members of the younger generation who know him. He doesn't think flappers "terrible." He sorter likes 'em. He emphasizes that he is in favor of short skirts—the shorter the better, he grins.

"Does the use of tobacco prevent the attainment of a ripe, old age?"

He picks up his old pipe and, between puffs, answers:

"I've smoked a pipe for quite a few years and I fully expect to use up a few more cans of the weed. As for me, it hasn't cut down the growth—or the years. Does you good."

Central Press Photo

Lepreiet M. Logee

The demon rum, he avers, never hurt anybody who used it in moderation. But he strongly advises against the absorbing of "this bootleg stuff made by home talent." He maintains that the abolishment of the saloon was one of the great benefits of the Eighteenth Amendment.

When it comes to memory, Mr. Logee, despite his years, is "right on deck." He can't be shaken on dates or names.

With vivid detail he can relate events "way back," such as the Mexican War and the Gold Rush of '49. One of his earliest recollections dates back to the time when he was only two years old, nearly a century ago, when he remembers hearing his parents discuss the drowning of Nathan Stone in Burrillville, his birthplace.

Logee takes great pride in his distinction of being remembered as the oldest Mason in the country. He has been a member of that order for fifty-eight years. He first enrolled in the Mount Vernon Lodge of Jewett City, Conn. Later, he transferred his membership to Granite Lodge, Whitinsville, Mass. Recently he became the proud possessor of the fifty-year "veterans' jewel" of the I. O. O. F., the presentation being made by the Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Massachusetts. For nearly half a century he has been a member of Eureka Lodge, Knights of Pythias, of Whitinsville.

The suits were brought against the railroad company.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 20 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, just a healing, soothing vegetable laxative mixed with olive oil.

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver— constipation, you'll find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take them every night to keep right. Try them. 15c, 30c, 60c. —Adv.

PLAN TO KEEP OHIO IN FRONT ON AVIATION

Postmaster French Crow Attends Special Meeting on State Aeronautics

Plans for keeping Ohio at the forefront in aerial transportation, including a proposal to establish a state department of aviation, were outlined yesterday at a meeting of the aviation committee of the Ohio State Chamber of Commerce, held in Columbus. Postmaster French Crow of this city, a member of the committee, attended the meeting.

A recommendation that Marion and all other county seat cities in the state identify their communities for the convenience of aviators by painting 12-foot white letters on all flat roofs was one of the important proposals acted upon.

Rapid development of aerial transportation has made the establishment of a state department of aviation necessary, the committee decided in adopting a resolution to that effect to be submitted to the legislature.

Laws regulating stunt flying, the carrying of passengers in transport service and "for thrills" were also recommended to a joint legislative committee to be appointed from the Senate and House.

Postmaster Crow is especially interested in the aviation question because of its importance in relation to Ohio's aerial mail service, which is steadily becoming a more vital factor in the postal department.

Improvement of aviation facilities, as outlined by the Chamber of Commerce Committee, would be of tremendous value in aerial mail operations, it is stated.

The amount of air mail sent out from the local postoffice is said to be constantly increasing, many local industrial and business concerns taking advantage of its facilities for more rapid transportation. Under present conditions, letters sent by air mail from here to Pacific Coast points are delivered from one to two days earlier than if sent by train.

Considerably more time will be saved, it is predicted, if Ohio inaugurates the aviation plan proposed by the Chamber of Commerce Committee.

Postage rates on letters sent by air mail are 10 cents for each half ounce. This rate will assure delivery to any point in the country.

SUDDEN DERANGEMENT TRAGEDY CAUSE THEORY

Toledo Man Kills Self, Wounds Associate on California Golf Links

Los Angeles, Feb. 8—That Andrew Jankowski, 55, wealthy automobile dealer of Toledo, became suddenly deranged and as a result intended to kill his wife and then shot himself was the theory held by police here today following investigation of the probably fatal wounding of Jankowski of his close friend and business associate, Cornelius J. Callahan, 55, and Jankowski's immediate subsequent suicide on the golf links of the Bellvue Country Club, in the eastern suburbs of Los Angeles, late yesterday afternoon.

All three were playing a threesome over the Bellvue course, Mrs. Jankowski told officers, and her husband appeared to be in the best of spirits. He had only lately recovered from a serious nervous breakdown, the wife declared, and this possibly had left its effects.

The tragedy occurred just as the party were about to tee off from the eight hole. Jankowki, according to his wife, suddenly cried out "I'm going to kill you," and then aimed his pistol at her.

Callahan jumped in front just as Jankowski pulled the trigger, officers found out from their investigation, saving Mrs. Jankowski's life but receiving the bullet himself. He dropped in a critical condition and was rushed to an emergency hospital where physicians declar declared chances were even that he would recover. Callahan was shot behind the left ear.

Jankowski immediately turned the weapon on himself, Mrs. Jankowski told officers, and shot himself through the temple, dying instantly.

SERVICES HELD TODAY FOR MRS. BUFFINGTON

Prominent Citizen of Milford Center Is Claimed by Death

Marysville, Feb. 8—Funeral services were held this afternoon for Mrs. Lizzie Buffington, aged 69 years, and prominent citizen of Milford Center. The services were held at the home of her niece Mrs. Floyd Brodrick in this city and were conducted by Rev. C. C. Kennedy, pastor of the Methodist Church. Interment was made in the Milford Center cemetery in charge of Funeral Director L. H. Miller.

Mrs. Buffington was born May 17, 1852, at Warrensburg, Ohio, and was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David B. Johnson, deceased. Her husband, Thomas B. Buffington, died a number of years ago. They had no children. One sister, Mrs. Anna Hilford, of Prospect, survives. Four brothers are deceased.

Mrs. Buffington was a member of the Methodist Church of Milford Center and was affiliated with the Daughters of Rebekah and the Women's Relief Corps.

VARIED REPORTS FROM NICARAGUAN FIGHTING

Both Sides Claim Victory; Heavy Damage Done to Chinandega

Bluefields, Nicaragua, Feb. 8—Conflicting reports have been revived today as to the result of the fighting at Chinandega.

One report, from Diaz forces, claims that the conservatives have again taken possession of the city and that the liberals have been routed with heavy losses.

From Liberal sources, however, comes reports that the Liberals still are giving battle to the conservatives within Chinandega.

Heavy damage is reported to have been done to the city, and several entire squares are reported to have been ruined by fire which broke out during the engagement.

The casualties on both sides are reported to have been heavy, with the dead estimated at 100.

Conservative headquarters charge that the Liberals have done considerable damage to lines of communication and have attempted to make their depredations difficult of repair in an attempt to hamper the service of supply between Managua and Corinto.

DENNIS RECALLED FROM NICARAGUA

Washington, Feb. 8 — Lawrence Dennis, American charge in Nicaragua, who was instrumental in the elevation of Adolfo Diaz to the presidency of that country, has been recalled from Managua for duty in the state department, it was announced today.

Denial was made at the department that Dennis' recall was due to dissatisfaction with his conduct of affairs in Nicaragua in recent months. His transfer was said to be at his own request and in the nature of routine business.

GENERAL UPRISING IN PORTUGAL IS REPORTED

Dispatches State Marines, Soldiers and Police Have Joined with Rebels

London, Feb. 8 — The situation in Portugal is obscured today, following last night's reports of a general uprising there against the dictatorship of General Carmona.

The last report states that marines, soldiers and police had joined with the rebels and that a cruiser had thrown shells on the land batteries.

Today it was evident that a strict censorship had been laid down, for cable officials said that while their lines were clear they had received nothing from Lisbon since 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. All attempts to communicate have been fruitless.

The revolt which was lead by Col. Mendes Reis gave promise of being successful, according to latest reports.

Shops had been closed and government business suspended. The populace was described as joining in the demonstrations against Carmona.

Reports received from the Spanish frontier stated that wholesale arrests had been made of journalists. There were reports of heavy casualties in fighting at Oporto and elsewhere.

The uprising appears to be in opposition to dictatorship and for a restoration of constitutional government.

No Fear Now of Offense!

So Sweet and Clean Inside! No Offensive Vapors From the Pores

Once a person realizes the wonderful properties in cascara, no other laxative in the market would ever be considered.

If no trick to "clean out the bowels". Dozens of things will do that. But a little natural cascara purifies the system clear through. Cleanses even the pores of your skin. Renders perspiration as inoffensive as so much dew! The old-fashioned way was "salts." They get action, but they take the mucous membrane along with the waste matter! Mineral oils are gentler, but they leave the bowls with a film of poisons for the blood to carry off through the pores. But when you cascarize the system, you get rid of all poisons by normal muscular action of the bowels.

If you have the habit of taking medicine for constipation, or even for auto-intoxication, stop it. For a candy cascaret is a delightful form in which to take cascara; children love them, and the taste tempts most grown-ups to have "more".

And what a comfort to know you are in that clean, wholesome condition that does away with that need of doctor, nurse, even in heatwave weather! Try a cascaret tonight and how you feel next day, and for days after! With the skin [illegible] All druggists, 10c and 25c boxes.

"BABE" RUTH, swat king of baseball has taken to the road in preparation for his 1927 assault on home-run records. When Ruth returned to Hollywood from Salt City he brought with him Arthur McGovern, of New York, his physical trainer who vetoed Ruth's plans for handball as training and decreed the more strenuous road grind.

McGovern will claim the first two hours of Ruth's working day during the three weeks the home run champion is in Hollywood for motion picture work. He will wind up each morning workout by making his charge, swathed in woolens, trot from his Hollywood hotel to Burbank, a distance of more than five miles.

JAKE SCHAFFER, holder of the world's 18.1 balkline billiard championship, and Willie Hoppe, challenger, have signed to play a 3,000-point match for the title at the Strand Billiard Academy during the week of February 14. This will be the first titular match at 18.1 since Schaefer lifted the crown from Hoppe in January, 1920.

The validity of the title is questioned by the Brunswick-Balke-Collendar Company, which controls championships in professional billiards. The Brunswick officials claim that Hoppe automatically vacated the title when he failed to defend it for more than a decade preceding 1926 and that the 1926 match had no title at stake. It is understood, however, that, in the face of this disapproval of the match, Hoppe and Schaefer will play for the disputed title.

Business College Five Trims Railway Service

Pulls Surprise of Season in Industrial Cage Loop; Wailfor and Shults Star

Final Score Is 27 to 23; Commercials Defeat Hubers by Large Score and Fairfield Engineers Take Measure of Winning Osgood Quintet, 25 to 11

BY EDDIE SCHOENLEB
Sports Editor, The Star

A BASKETBALL team may be down but its never out. At least, that's the policy and motto of the Marion Business College quintet. The Collegians proved their point last night in the final game of the eleventh round in the Marion Industrial Basketball League.

After losing eight games and winning only one, the Business College basketeers last night kicked over the dope bucket and pulled probably the greatest surprise of the season in Marion basketball circles when they humbled the Railway Service five by a 27 to 23 score.

And the Collegians didn't have extraordinary luck. They played a nice brand of basketball with Wainfor and Shults carrying the heaviest end of the scoring. The score was tied on several occasions during the contest but the crowd went wild only in the final minute, when Shults pulled his team into a deadlock with the Servicemen at the 23 mark.

Wainfor Breaks Tie

Even then the Railway crew didn't realize that it was in for a trouncing. Only a minute and a half remained when Wainfor, former Prospect High School star, playing forward for the Business College, broke the deadlock with a pretty field goal from a point far behind the foul line. The auditorium again rang out with cheers. Never satisfied, the tall, lumbering Shults, in the next 30 seconds, struggled down the floor, braced himself under the netted hoop and calmly deposited the ball in the bucket. It was a clean victory.

Wainfor made nine points for the Collegians and Shults scorer 12 out of the 27 marked up for the team. Henny Rennert and Fred Tschanen were high scorers for the Railway Service with Rinnert playing the best all-round game of any of his teammates.

Not So Interesting

The other two Industrial games were not so interesting. Commercials had little trouble with the Huber five in the first game. They won 48 to 20. Although many doped the Osgoods to again come through with a victory, they did not consider the fact that the Fairfield Engineers have improved considerably during the last two weeks while Osgoods were idle. The Enghneers won over the Osgood Co, last night, 25 to 11.

Commercials couldn't miss the bucket. Perry and Applegett each caged seven field goals, Geissler got five, and Yazel connected for four. Hubers played a great game but simply could not successfully compete with the string Commercial outfit. Miley of Hubers made three baskets while Strine performed in a stellar manner. He made five field goals and a free throw.

Fairfields Lead

Fairfields led the Osgood quintet 7 to 4 at the half but it was not until the last five minute that Engineer rooters sat back and breathed easier with the consolation that their team would eventually come out on top.

Pendon was the outstanding star of the occasion. He made 10 of the Fairfield's 25 points and played a great guard game. Every regular on the Engineer crew scored a field goal.

Parr was the best for Osgood. He managed to connect for seven points and fought from start to finish to pull his team out of the rut. Scoop Irvin was placed on the bench in the last minute with four personal fouls.

MARION BUICKS LOSE TO DELAWARE BOWLERS

Drop Match to Jones Barbers on Delaware Alleys by Narrow Margin

Marion Buicks Saturday night lost to Jones Barbers of Delaware in the bowling alleys of that city. The final score for the three games was 2564 to 2523. Delaware took the first game by a large enough margin to overcome Marion's lead in the next two tilts.

Whipps was high scorer for a single game among the Buicks. He rolled 204 in the second fray. Sahr's 215 mark was high for Delaware and the match.

CENTRAL CHRISTIANS DEFEAT FIRST REFORMS

Tie for First Place in Junior Sunday School League Race

Central Christians last night handled the First Reformed basketball team its first Junior Sunday School league defeat of the season and incidentally stepped into a tie for first place in the league. The final score was 24 to 18.

In the first game of the night, Trinity Baptists had a tough time defeating First Presbyterians but finally turned the trick and came out on top with a 25 to 24 score.

The Reforms have been leading the Junior League all season and the defeat at the hands of the Central Christians brings them down a notch, or rather, elevates the Christians a step. Each team has now won five games and lost one.

REVENGE IS SWEET

Illinois Defeats Ohio State Cagers by 43-30 Score

Champaign, Ill., Feb. 8—"Revenge is sweet," was the war cry of basketball fans here today following the victory of Illinois over Ohio State in a Big Ten championship cage tilt here last night.

The Buckeyes had beaten Illinois by just one point in their clash at Columbus several weeks ago. The Illini won last night, 43 to 30. Capt. "Pug." Daugherity, one of the high scoring aces of the conference, led the Illinois attack with eight field baskets and one free throw. Capt. Hunt maintained his place as conference high scorer by making eleven points.

Eds Hand Comps First Star League Defeat of Season

The Editorial department bowlers yesterday afternoon handed the Compositors the first defeat of the season in the Marion Star bowling league, winning the first of two games by a score of 651 to 644. The Comps staged a comeback in the second tilt and won 786 to 618.

Hiett led the Eds in the first game, rolling 203 points. Custer of the Comps broke the league record for a single game when he bowled 221 in the second fray. Hiett formerly held the record at 203.

BRADLEYS DROP TWO; DUGANS ARE DEFEATED

Smart & Waddell Defeat Drug Bowlers; Bentz Tires Win

Smart & Waddell bowlers last night took two games from the National League leading Bradley Drugs while Bentz Tires dropped the Dugan rollers a few more notches down the ladder by winning three games.

Shriver's 185 mark was high for Dugans last night while Cull led Bentz Tires with 208 pins.

Although the Drugs lost two games to Smart & Waddell, they had a higher total for the three contests than their opponents. The total score was 2492 to 2473. Lantz was high scorer for Bradley Drugs with 213 pins while J. Hane led Smart and Waddell with 199 points.

JOLTS WESLEYAN

Cincinnati University Romps Over Delaware Five, 54 to 25

Cincinnati, Feb. 8 — Championship hopes of Ohio Wesleyan's basketball squad were down another notch today following a perfect trouncing administered by the University of Cincinnati here last night.

The Bearcats, previously spanked by Wesleyan as well as Wittenberg, astounded even their strongest backers by winning over the Bishops by a 54-25 score.

Poor basket shooting combined with erratic passing marked Wesleyan's poor game.

LIMA BOWLERS DEFEAT MARION BRADLEY DRUGS

Games Featured by High Scores by Both Teams

High scores flew fast and thick in the bowling match between Marion Bradley Drugs and Lima Locos at Lima Saturday night, and the Drugs came home on the tail end of a 2904 to 2855 total score for three games.

Lima men bowled over 900 in two games and hit the 1,018 mark in the final contest. The Drugs went below the 900 mark by four points in the second tilt when they rolled only 896 pins. The first score was 964 and the score in the final game was 995.

McRill was high scorer on the Marion team for one game, rolling 230 while Zusler's mark of 602 was high for a total of three games. Coon of Lima rolled a total of 623 in the three games and Heffner of that city bowled 242 in one game.

Rus Finsterwald, Athens, to Referee First Game in Isaly-Shovel Cage Series

Uninterested Official Engaged by Manager Hinklin for First Contest in Star Auditorium Thursday Night; Reserved Seats Going Fast; Will Accommodate Huge Crowd

"RUS" FINSTERWALD, of Athens, O., prosecuting attorney of that city and an Ohio Conference referee, will officiate in the first cage battle between Isaly Dairies and Steam Shovels, to be played Thursday night in the Star Auditorium. This announcement was made late yesterday by Manager Marion Hinklin of the Isaly Dairies, who has made efforts to procure a referee that would be absolutely uninterested in the outcome of the fray.

Only one official will be on the floor during each game of the big series. That official will act as referee and umpire combined. Collegiate rules will reign supreme in each game of the series and four personal fouls will place a player on the bench.

Seats Going Rapidly

Reserved seats for the first game are going fast, it was reported today. Reserved seats, together with general admission tickets, may be procured at Markert & Lewis, The Isaly Dairy, or the Steam Shovel. Arrangements are being made whereby managers hope to accommodate a larger number of spectators than ever before in the Star auditorium. It is urged that general admission tickets, as well as the reserved pasteboards, be purchased at one of the three places mentioned above, in order to eliminate the rush at the box office on the night of the game.

Doors to the Star auditorium will be thrown open at 6:30 Thursday night. There will be no preliminary event. The first and last game of the night, the Isaly-Steam Shovel battle, will be called promptly at 8:15 o'clock.

First Game To Be Thriller

The first game of the series between the two rival basketball clubs of this city promises to be a thriller from start to finish. Both teams will start the game with their regular lineup, the players that have been representing them during the season. The Dairies will have their usual list of subs on the bench and the Shovels will probably have four or five of the list of 23 players published a few days ago handy.

At present, it is Manager Bacon's plans to start the game with his regular lineup which includes Harry Schwab at center, Dewey Bohyer and Bub Wilson at forwards, and Bacon and Baldy Compton, guards. It is probable that he will have few, if any, of the professionals included in the eligible list.

Manager Hinklin will start Ray Miller and Applegett at guards, Newt Minard, center, and "Dapper" Peney and Fred Tschanen at forward. Fried Phillians may start at one forward position.

Basketball fans who have seen these two teams in action during the season are not so certain who will win. The two groups are almost evenly matched. The Shovels may have the edge on the Dairies in experience, collegiate and otherwise, but it must be remembered that Isalies have been playing together for several years and have in this manner improved greatly.

BILLIARD TOURNAMENT TO START NEXT MONDAY

Plans Being Made for Annual Y. M. C. A. Tourney; New Cues Coming

The Triangle Club Billiard Tournament gets under way at the Y. M. C. A., next Monday, Eddie Irwin of the boys' department announced today. The tourney is open to all boys who rank from 15 to 18 years in age and are members of the Y. M. C. A. The tourney will probably last four days.

At leats 25 boys are expected to take part and new cues are being purchased for the occasion. It is planned to give a cue to the winner.

Drawings for the tournament will take place Friday or Saturday and play will begin Monday afternoon. Eddie Irwin and Joe Drake are in charge of the tourney.

It is remarkable how much business a country store can do without appearing to be busy.

Your pipe can be a cheer or a chore

IT DEPENDS on what you feed it. Put it on a regular ration of Prince Albert and it will yield you pleasure, without stint or limit. "Never," you will say, "has the old pipe tasted so good." There isn't the ghost of a doubt about it. Just try it!

As you open the tidy red tin, close your eyes and drink-in that rich, rare aroma. You can hardly wait to get the taste of tobacco that smells as good as that. Then the big moment: You load up and light up. That's Prince Albert, Men, prime favorite of veteran smokers.

Cool as a magistrate fixing a fine. Sweet as the news that you won't have to pay it. Mild as a wifely rebuke for having spent too much on her birthday present. Mild, yet with that full tobacco body that satisfies your smoke-taste to the limit. A smoke!

Buy yourself a tidy red tin of P. A. and give your pipe a chance to deliver capacity joy. No matter how settled you appear to be on a smoke-program, try Prince Albert. Millions of pipe-happy men declare that no other tobacco is like it. You'll say so.

P. A. is sold everywhere in tidy red tins, pound and half-pound tin humidors, and pound crystal-glass humidors with sponge-moistener top. And always with every bit of bite and parch removed by the Prince Albert process.

Daily Bedtime Story

BY HOWARD GARIS

Uncle Wiggily and His Friends

"Ding! Ding!" the Lady Mouse teacher in the Hollow Stump School rang the bell which told the animal boys and girls that it was recess time. Billie Bushytail, the squirrel boy, jumped out of his seat so fast that he bumped into Susie Littletail, the rabbit girl.

"Billie! Not quite so quick, if you please," squeaked the Lady Mouse. "Now beg Susie's pardon and go back to your seat and wait until all the others pass out first. Then you may go."

Billie hung his head. He was ashamed of himself.

"I—I beg your pardon, Susie," he said in a low voice.

"You are quite welcome—I mean, I do not mention it," said Susie quickly, as she had been taught.

Then Billie, to make him remember that he must not rush out ahead of the animal girls at recess time, had to stay in his seat until the last of the boy animals had passed out, when he was allowed to get up.

"I'm sorry, teacher," whispered the squirrel boy. "I'll never do that again."

"What was your rush?" chattered Susie, who was Billie's brother, when they were out in the school yard with the other boys and girls were playing in the snow.

"I wanted to get my apple and eat some of the seeds," answered Billie.

"Your apple!" chattered his brother. "I didn't know you brought an apple to recess. Where is it?"

"In that hollow tree over there," answered Billie, pointing across the school yard to the edge of the woods.

"When did you put it in?" asked Susie.

"Oh, last fall," was Billie's answer. "I found an apple one day when I was out adventuring with Uncle Wiggily. I didn't want to eat it then, and I don't, either, so I dropped it down in the hollow tree, thinking I might some time be hungry and want it. And I'm hungry now."

"So am I!" chattered Johnnie. "Then come on! We'll get my apple and eat the seeds and we'll give pieces of the core to some of the others," said Susie, who wasn't a bit selfish.

The squirrel brothers ran across the school yard to the hollow tree, Billie in the lead.

"What game are you playing?" bleated Billie, the goat boy.

"Pleasance!" answered Billie, but he didn't mean it just the way it sounds, I mean like slang. He just meant that he was after an apple and apples make good sauce.

Billie reached the hollow tree first, and when he put his paws down inside the hollow tree and tried to pull up the apple a queer look came over his face.

"What's the matter?" asked Johnnie who stood there hungrily waiting. "Is the apple gone?"

"No, it's here all right. I can feel it. Is it frozen fast so you can't get it out?" went on Johnnie.

"I don't know whether it's frozen or not, but I can't get out," answered Billie. "Come and help me pull."

The two squirrels pulled, but the apple would not come out of the hollow tree, and then, all of a sudden, a voice down inside it said:

"Let my apple alone! Go away and let my apple alone!"

Johnnie and Billie were so surprised that they turned back somersaults into a snow drift. And just then Uncle Wiggily hopped along.

"What's the matter?" asked the rabbit gentleman.

"Somebody inside the hollow tree has my apple!" chattered Billie.

"Let me look," suggested Mr. Longears. With his red, white and blue striped rheumatism crutch, Uncle Wiggily poked at the apple in the hollow, until, all of a sudden, out it popped. And with it came a strange squirrel boy who had his front paws tightly clasped around the apple.

"This is my apple! I smelled it in the hollow tree and I crawled in to get it!" said the strange squirrel.

"It's my apple, for I hid it there last fall!" chattered Billie, and he and Johnnie were getting ready to throw snowballs at the strange squirrel, who lived on the other side of the forest. And the strange squirrel was getting ready to run away with the apple when Uncle Wiggily said:

Come on!" said Billie

"The apple is large enough to divide among you. There are plenty of seeds in it. Here, I'll cut it in three parts." And when the bunny gentleman had done this, truly there was enough for all three squirrels. So they forgot their quarrel and played happily until recess was over.

Then the strange squirrel, whose name was Flippy, ran back home, Billie and the others hurried into the Hollow Stump School, and if the umbrella doesn't get tired of being rained on all the while and turn into a rubber boot, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and Susie's sash.

WHEELING, LAKE ERIE STOCK SELLS AT 130

Non-Dividend Rail Issues Lead in Roaring, Raging Price Advance

MARKETS AT A GLANCE

Railroad stocks, strong; industrial, irregular; domestic bonds, dull; foreign bonds, strong; call money, 4 per cent; grain, fairly steady; copper, reactionary; oil steady; cotton, steady; rubber, steady; sugar, firm; pig iron, steady; foreign exchange, steady.

New York, Feb. 8—The speculative non-dividend railroad stocks were the leaders in a roaring, raging forward movement in prices in the stock market today.

The 35-point jump in Wheeling and Lake Erie common stock to 130 could hardly be considered a pace-maker in view of the actual corner existing in that stock; but Wall Street's speculative fever displayed itself in full force in the demand for other "merger rail" shares were rushed to the front in a shares were rushd to the front in a wild upward rush, in which new price gains of 2 to 6 points were recorded.

Many of the shorts in Wheeling, despairing of any immediate remedy through the conversion of preferred stock into common, and being forced to pay a 7 per cent daily premium for borrowing the stock, decided to take their losses. The first sale in Wheeling common was at 105, up 10 points from the previous close. From that price level it advanced on 5-point jumps to 130, more than 100 points above the low of last month's.

Wall Street heard today that the big railroad interests were staging similar contests in other roads with merger possibilities, including Chicago Great Western. This stock was the outstanding leader in the speculative rail group today, with a rise of 6 points in the common to 21¾ and 2½ points in the preferred. Western Maryland was an active speculative football, gyrating wildly between 38 and 42, but with the bulk of sales near the top price. St. Paul, Peoria and Eastern, New Haven and Kansas City Southern were active.

The investment rails were not neglected. Shortly after the noon period a strong demand developed for New York Central, Reading and other well known dividend payers, which advanced a point or two in good form.

Remington Typewriter set a fast pace for the specialty stocks, with a new 12-point rise to 151 in very heavy trading, following the return of the stock to the dividend column. Hudson Motors and a few of the better grade of oil stocks completed the active list in the industrials, the bulk of oil, copper, steel, equipment and sugar stocks appearing but seldom in the reports of large scale buying.

Today in Marion Markets

Groceries, Produce, Meats, Grain, Livestock

Eggs continued their downward trend today, selling for 41 cents graded strictly fresh, a drop of four cents a dozen from the top price of a few days ago. Some stores were selling as low as 37 cents a dozen for strictly fresh eggs.

Wholesale prices of eggs have wobbled considerably in the last two weeks, climbing a point or two and dropping back again. Prices of both wholesale and retail markets in larger centers have been weak for some time.

Butter prices are holding their own, top price for creamery being 58 cents, at which point the retail price has held for several weeks.

Plenty of fresh vegetables were on the market this morning, with new supplies of celery, carrots and green onions being available. New shipments of cabbage also were here. Cabbage is one of the steadiest-priced vegetables on the market, continuing to sell for five cents a pound. Green onions are two bunches for 15 cents, carrots are 10 cents a bunch and celery is 10 cents to 15 cents a bunch, with select celery hearts slightly higher.

EIGHT PERSONS PLEAD GUILTY IN CITY COURT

Draw Fines Totaling $95 on Charges of Intoxication and Disorderly Conduct

Eight of 13 persons, most of them youths between 18 and 21 years of age, taken into custody by local police Saturday and Sunday, pleaded guilty to intoxication and disorderly conduct charges when arraigned in Municipal Court yesterday, and were assessed fines totaling $95. In addition they will be required to pay the costs of the proceedings.

Pleas of not guilty were entered by the remaining five. Four are to be placed on trial late today and the fifth has his hearing set for Feb. 15.

The man to be tried on Feb. 15 is Homer Walters, 40, of 770 N. State-st, who pleaded not guilty to the charge of having entered the William Hatcher home on George-st, Sunday, and threatened to attack Hatcher. He faces a disorderly conduct charge filed by Hatcher.

Wives File Charges

In addition to the 13 taken into custody Saturday and Sunday, two men were brought into court on charges filed by their wives. Clyde Myers, pleaded guilty to abandoning his family while his wife was ill, was sentenced to six months in the workhouse but the sentence will be suspended, Judge Martin stated, if Myers puts up a $500 bond to guarantee support of his family in the future.

He has three days for obtaining the bond and is held at the city prison awaiting developments.

Lee Wederis, taken into custody on a non-support charge, was released when a settlement was effected by Wederis agreeing to pay $8 a week to provide for his two children.

Oscar Pierson, 20, was fined $5; C. W. Shoup, 40, $5; Charles Decker, 18, $10; Lewis Wolf, 20, $10; Harris Miller, 21, $20; Roy Harmon, 19, $10; Robert Blazer, 21, $10, and Miss Florence Miller, 19, $25, when they pleaded guilty to intoxication and disorderly conduct charges.

Plead Not Guilty

George E. Caylor, 40; Robert Bailey, 19; Howard Sanders, 19, and Paul Hensley, 22, pleaded not guilty to similar charges and their hearings were set for this afternoon.

Most of the prisoners were taken into custody in police raids staged in the Hocking Valley Railway yards. The one woman in the list was arrested at her apartments on W. Center-st.

Erie Establishes Two New Regions by Eliminating Three Sections of Division

Districts Originated in Administrative Reorganization of Road by Pres. J. J. Bernet; Salamanca and Buffalo New Dividing Points

Two districts, western and eastern, with Salamanca and Buffalo as the dividing points have been established on the Erie, replacing the former three regions into which the railroad was divided heretofore. The districts were originated when Pres. J. J. Bernet of the Eire announced an administrative reorganization of the road.

The change involves a number of shifts in high ranking personnel, including displacement of some officers of the former Chicago region, which now is consolidated with the former Ohio region to make the western district, with headquarters in Youngstown. Marion is a part of the western district.

The reorganization is expected to greatly reduce overhead expenses by consolidating various offices.

New official personnel has been announced as follows:

W. A. Baldwin remains vice-president in charge of operations.

R. S. Parsons, now vice president of the Ohio Region, becomes chief engineer of the entire system, with headquarters in New York.

David L. Gray remains vice-president in charge of traffic and transportation, assisted by Vice President Carl Howe in Chicago.

William F. Jackson, now superintendent of motive power for the New York Region, will be in charge of motive power over the entire system.

Not Mentioned

Announcements made public so far have made no mention concerning Franklin G. Robbins, vice-president, in charge of the Chicago Region.

John A. Mantell, vice president in charge of New York region, will be resident vice president at New York in charge of Greater New York territory to Port Jervis and Stroudsburg, Pa.

Robert E. Woodruff, now superintendent of the Buffalo division, becomes general manager of the eastern district, headquarters at Hornell. Herman J. Klein, now superintendent of transportation of the Ohio region, will be general manager of the western district with headquarters remaining in Youngstown.

Special Train

A delegation of plumbers, enroute from Dayton to Youngstown to attend a convention being held in that city, passed through Marion today on Erie Train 16.

Freight Brisk

Local freight houses continue to report a rushing business, especially in the transfer of cars. The largest number of cars are transferred between the Hocking Valley and Erie railroads in this city.

Rail Briefs

J. L. Hughes, of the Hocking Valley Railroad, having offices in Columbus, was in Marion yesterday.

J. W. Chapman, assistant cost engineer of the Hocking Valley Railroad, with the local yards, was in Columbus Saturday on company business.

EXPANSION MOVE

Cincinnati, Feb. 8—A conference with civic leaders here today on plans for the industrial expansion of Cincinnati will be attended by H. D. Shute, president of the Westinghouse Electric Co., Pittsburgh, it was announced here today.

AIMEE AT CHICAGO

Five Thousand Persons Hear Woman Evangelist Speak

Chicago, Feb. 8—Won by her wit and then converted by her fervor, 300 erstwhile indifferent Chicagoans today had become ardent subscribers to the "old time religion" as preached by Aimee Semple McPherson.

They were a mere handful of the mighty throng that last night squirmed, pushed and fought its way into the Coliseum to hear the opening sermon of the famous Los Angeles woman evangelist. Approximately 5,000 persons were successful in the struggle for admittance.

Five thousand more milled around outside begging to be allowed to enter. Fifty policemen were called to preserve order. Mrs. McPherson characterized it as one of the greatest revivals of her career.

Broken Standard is Mute Testimony to Paving Need

THE broken remnants of a once perfectly good electric light standard, lying near the curbing, provides the latest evidence that a new paving is urgenily needed on W. Center-st, business men who have been advocating the improvement report today.

Wheels of an automobile going west on Center-st yesterday caught in ruts along the street railway track at a point near Canby-ct and when the driver sought to get his car out of the trap a collision with one of the metal cluster light standards resulted.

The automobile was only slightly damaged although the light post was broken off near its base, reports of the accident state. Identity of the owner of the car could not be ascertained.

SUPREME COURT TO HEAR VARGO CASE APPEAL

Columbus, Feb. 8—The state supreme court today announced its decision to hear the appeal of the state from the action of the Lake County Appellate Court which ordered a new trial in the common pleas court in the case of George Vargo who had been sentenced to be electrocuted at Ohio Penitentiary Oct. 14, last. The appellate court reversed the action of the common pleas which found Vargo guilty of first degree murder for the alleged killing of a Mrs. Sabo at whose home he roomed.

Police Head Making Rounds Afoot After Car is Stolen

THE modern automobile thief shows no favoritism.

This was indicated last night when W. B. Strayer's car, a 1926 model Chevrolet sedan, was stolen from its parking place on Church-st near State-st.

The important feature of the incident is not the automobile theft, which is a rather common happening these days, but the fact that Mr. Strayer is Marion's director of public safety and head of the city's police department.

Fate seemed to have worked in cooperation with the thief. Yesterday morning Mr. Strayer drove his machine to a garage for repairs that would have held it there in safe keeping until this morning but the garage proprietor stated that the work could not be done at that time and suggested that the car be brought in today. Then last night safety director decided to postpone a business trip that would have necessitated driving the car and it was parked at the point where the theft occurred.

Mr. Strayer found the car gone when he went to get it about 9 o'clock. The theft was reported to the police department and local officers in turn notified departments in surrounding cities. Thus far, however, efforts to locate it have been unavailing.

The State-st and Church-st corner has been the center of automobile theft activities during the last few months, police say. Records at the department show that at least half of cars stolen in that time have been taken from points near the intersection of these two thoroughfares.

PLEASANT HOMECOMING WILL BE HELD TONIGHT

All Former Students of School Invited To Return for Annual Celebration

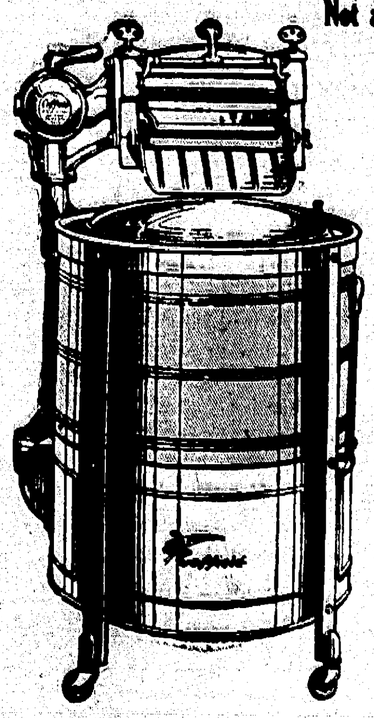
Pleasant Township School will observe its homecoming celebration tonight in the school auditorium. All former students of the school have been invited to return for the affair, and all the older residents of the township will be on hand to take part in the program.

A special place has been reserved by the committee in charge for residents of the township 70 years or more old. These persons are urged to attend and will be given a place of honor on the stage of the auditorium.

Special music will be given by the Pleasant High School orchestra, in charge of J. M. Crimm. Students of the school will give a short play, with music, and there will be several addresses, as well as novelty musical numbers.

A lunch and general social time will close the program.

The Quick Coffield



Not a Mere Machine but a Careful Household Servant

Wonder Points of the "Quick Coffield"

CAPACITY—a nice, roomy, big, copper tub, full ten-sheet size, gives the large washing capacity.

VIBRATION—there is no vibration, even under a heavy washing load.

WRINGER—all metal, exclusive "Gold Seal" Wringer of COFFIELD design, found only on the COFFIELD washer.

PRESSURE—double control, multiple pressure gives the greatest wringing pressure known.

DRAINBOARDS—automatic water deflector with stationary drainboards make the "Gold Seal" Wringer quickest to operate.

SAFETY—only one gear case between operation of motor and surger and one for the wringer control—all parts completely enclosed, yet always accessible.

LUBRICATION—both gear cases are supplied with lubricant which will last indefinitely. All bearings are of the Arguto oilless type and never need additional lubricants.
